Dr. Frank J. Prout

Our President

Serving his eighth year as administrative head of the university, Dr. Frank J. Prout, combining a genial personality with progressive ideas, has become symbolic of the university's expansion and rise to eminence as a scholastic institution.

Under his guidance there has been a tremendous expansion of housing and eating facilities to handle the increased enrollment of recent years. Among the housing line surplus army buildings provided a men's dormitory, a cafeteria, and additional classrooms. Seven brick dormitory-type houses were constructed and are now occupied by the various fraternities while five additional sorority houses will be ready for occupancy by fall.

He was handicapped in his work by a recurring illness which was climaxed by a major operation in Toledo Hospital last winter. Dr. Prout often jokingly refers to his 26 day period of recuperation as his "vacation." As soon as it was advisable, he was moved to the University hospital where he was able to keep in touch with campus activities. Through use of a sound scribe in his hospital room, Dr. Prout was able to keep up with his desk work.

An integral part of the university, his forceful presence was illustrative of a more than capable administrative head.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees consists of the State Director of Education, an ex-officio member, and five other members. The appointments to the Board are made by the Governor of Ohio and are confirmed by the Ohio State Senate. The members, one appointed each year for a five-year period, are active business and professional men in Ohio upon whom rests the directing and officiating of Bowling Green State University. But each is a contributor in his own field as well as a director in the improvement of B. G. These five men, selected because of their interest in the University and because of their business or professional ability, are representatives of various occupations, professions, and localities in Northwestern Ohio. Board President E. T. Rodgers is the Publisher of "The Advertiser Tribune" in Tiffin. Secretary Alva Bachman, former mayor of Bowling Green, is an attorney. Carl Schwyn is not only a banker but an active business man from Cygnet. James C. Donnell, is vice-president of the Ohio Oil Company in Findlay. Minor Kershner is a teacher at Liberty Center.

At each of the meetings of the board, University President Dr. Frank J. Prout presents an outline of the problems which may include the budget, honorary degree grants, contracts for building, and tentative appointments for the approval of the Board.

The influence of these men can be seen in the advancement that Bowling Green has made as a young university.

Social

Audrey Kenyon Wilder

Miss Audrey Kenyon Wilder, Dean of Women, holds the position of the most active and busy woman on campus. One of her many duties includes supervising the welfare of all women students. Efficient in advising such organizations as Panhellenic, national inter-sorority council, and The Association of Women Students, Dean Wilder is also an advisor of Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary.

Arch B. Conklin

Arch B. Conklin, Dean of Students, came to the University in September, 1939, after 24 years of public school work, the last 13 years of which he served as superintendent of the Bowling Green public schools.

Dean Conklin, who has executive control of both men and women in the field of personnel, has been very capable in handling the many problems connected with housing and students.

Deans

Academic Deans

Ralph G. Harshman

Dr. Ralph G. Harshman is Dean of the College of Business Administration. In addition to his duties as Dean, he is chairman of the Athletic and Student Union Committees and is a member of the Executive Committee.

On the second floor of the Administration building, at the far end of the hall is the office of Dean Litherland, who is in charge of the College of Education. In addition to doing student counseling, he had many administrative duties, did student curriculum work, and served on many of the student-faculty committees.

Dr. James R. Overman, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, is chairman of the Activity Fees committee.

Herschel Litherland

James Robert Overman

At the end of this college year, Dr. James Overman was relieved of his administrative duties for reasons of health. The Board of Trustees has named him the only dean emeritus at Bowling Green State University. Dr. Kenneth McFall will succeed him as dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Kenneth H. McFall, Director of Guidance, and Assistant Dean of Liberal Arts, came to Bowling Green in 1943 as Dean of Freshmen.

He coordinates the University guidance program, supervises the counselling of veterans, serves as liaison official for the University contacts with the Veterans Administration, and directs the testing program for entering students.

Kenneth H. McFall

John W. Bunn, Ervin J. Kreischer, Paul E. Leedy, Emerson C. Shuck, I. William Miller, Paul W. Jones.

Administrative Heads

A very vital part of the administration is made up of the six men who hold positions as administrative heads. Many problems arose during the year but each was dealt with efficiently and successfully. The end result was less inconvenience for all students in registering, payment of fees, and scheduling of classes.

John W. Bunn, registrar, has under his care all records of schedules, grades, and credit. Due to increased enrollment this was a huge job, but it was completed successfully each semester with a minimum of red tape.

Business matters were capably handled by Ervin J. Kreischer, in his position as business manager of the university. Balancing the budget and approving all purchases for campus dormitories and university supplies are everyday routine to Mr. Kreischer and his staff. The business office also collects student payments of fees, room, and board.

Under the direction of Dr. Paul E. Leedy, librarian, the third floor of the library was remodeled this year and converted into a greatly needed study room. The staff of assistants distributed the largest number of books in the history of the university.

The graduate school, under the direction of Dr. Emerson C. Shuck has continued to expand its facilities and an ever increasing enrollment has been the result of his efforts.

I. William Miller, director of Alumni Relations and Director of the Bureau of Appointments continues to be the contact between the university and the alumni association. This year his office received donations for a plaque in memory of Bowling Green students who were killed during World War II.

Publicity and public relations was under the direction of Paul W. Jones. All hometown newspapers were given full coverage on the activities of the students from their particular area.

Graduate work began at Bowling Green in 1935, when Dr. Clayton Kohl was placed in charge of the new division. At this time the graduate division was regarded as an extension of the three undergraduate colleges. Those departments offering graduate work from the beginning were Biology, English, Foreign Language, History, Mathematics, and Sociology. Geography offered graduate courses after 1940 and Business Education began graduate work in 1941, but abandoned it during the war.

In 1945 President Prout created the Graduate School as a fourth major division of the University, with Dr. Emerson Shuck being appointed as Director. The department of Business Education resumed its graduate work in 1947, and the departments of Economics, Psychology, and Speech were authorized to offer graduate majors. In 1948 the department of Business Administration was added with plans to do graduate work in the fields of Accounting, Finance, and Marketing. Graduate registration doubled this year, and further increases are expected.

Just as the Falcon has spread its wings, so has the class of '48 watched a university which has been growing and changing the past four years.

The Falcon followers entered a campus much different from the one they're leaving—a campus which has been deserted by the military personnel that once occupied it. They can proudly say that their talents, their initiative and ambition played an important part in the progressive development of Bowling Green.

With their feet firmly on the ground the Falcons of '48 can move out into the world eagerly and assuredly, yet at the same time a trifle reluctant to leave. It's been four wonderful years; they can feel confident that a place will always be waiting for them on a campus they will never forget.

Officers

President	John Payak
Vice President	John Rudolph
Treasurer	Patricia Coughlin
Secretary	Carole Mulqueeney

The first post-war Freshman class has completed its third year at Bowling Green and is well prepared to assume the responsibilities of leaders of the school. This class can well remember the days when women outnumbered men, and when the total enrollment was less than half of what it is now. This class has been constantly adjusting to the increase in the number of students on campus, to the building of new class rooms and housing units, and to the addition of many new faculty members. The class has grown with the school, and has benefited by its progress.

The Juniors show promise of outstanding leaders. Already the class can boast of its members holding responsible positions on the Key, the Bee Gee News, and the new campus radio station programs. A large number of the class group are members or officers of honoraries and clubs. The Junior class can also take pride in its representation in music, athletics and dramatic productions.

The men and women of this class have determined what they want from life. With three successful years of college life behind them, they will move on to the role of Seniors and take leadership in their stride.

"Fighting Falcons plunge down the field . . ." was a cry commonly heard when the 348 freshman girls of Kohl Hall streamed into the football stadium to cheer the Falcons on to victory. Mrs. Sue Hatfield, housemother since Kohl has been occupied by freshmen women, and Lois Rubel, houseboard president, handled the supervisory tasks of Kohl.

Due to the increased number of students, the dining room of the dormitory was converted into living quarters for 32 girls and is known to all as the Kohl Hall Annex. With the elimination of the dining room, residents of Kohl had their meals at the Commons, a mess hall next to the dorm. The Commons also served as the scene of the social activities of Kohl.

The gals of Kohl showed their school spirit throughout the year by supporting candidates in campus elections and through their participation in campus organizations.

Backing the Bee Gee Falcons throughout the year were the 191 freshman and upperclass women of Shatzel Hall.

This dormitory, formerly accommodating the eating facilities of its residents, was remodeled to provide more classroom and study hall facilities for the school's increased enrollment. Active as in previous years in campus activities and organizations, the residents of Shatzel sponsored an all-campus open house during the year.

Mrs. Rhonehouse, formerly house director of the Women's Bldg., assumed new duties as house director of Shatzel this year, and Juanita Bame took over at the helm of the houseboard.

Returning to Bee Gee for another year, a great majority of upperclass women made Williams Hall their home. Housing a total of 177 girls, this dormitory has as its house director, Mrs. Josephine James, and as houseboard chairman, Ruth Hausrath. The downstairs lounge of Williams Hall was occupied by the Chi Omega sorority until their new home on sorority row was completed. This dormitory also served as an American home to a number of Panamanian, Mexican, and Hawaiian women students.

These upperclass women continued to show their loyalty to Bowling Green athletic events and took an active part in other campus activities among which were the sponsoring of candidates for campus contests and the organizing of dances and game nights for the students.

Carrying on with the same spirit as in other years the residents of the Women's Building sponsored an all-campus disc dance and participated wholeheartedly in campus beauty and political campaigns.

In addition to the freshmen girls living in the Women's Building, Sigma Rho Tau and Phi Mu sororities each occupied a lounge in the Women's Building, awaiting the completion of houses on sorority row.

The girls of the Women's Building were efficiently governed by a houseboard headed by Mildred Richey. Taking over at the helm as house-mother this year was Mrs. Haggard.

Among the many conveniences of living in the Women's Building were its recreation facilities and the ample store of soft water. With either classes or social events taking place every day, there was never a dull moment for the residents of this dorm.

Women's Building

North Dorm

"Hotel de Norte" and environs opened the second season as the largest men's dorm on campus with more than 500 men enrolled.

Early in September Sam Morell was elected representative to the Student Council. A house board of eight members, consisting of Joe Parks, Edward Mizerski, Robert Hartland, Hart Hursh, Ralph Zorn, Dick Saxer, Sam Morell, and Harold Hakes was chosen to direct dormitory policy.

The "Hotel", in the best tradition of hotels, still continued its 24 hour mail and telephone service headed by Mr. Chapman, dorm and annex manager, who was awaiting completion of his quarters in the building.

Mr. Chapman also began work with the North Dorm Association on plans for an early spring social function. Money for the affair was being raised through cigarette and coke sales and a dormitory dry cleaning service.

Several athletic teams sponsored by the dorm participated in various men's intramurals and many finished quite high in the final standings.

When temporary housing made its appearance on campus two years ago, the twelve metal Army huts, which lie directly behind the football field, were the first units to be brought in and erected.

Each hut holds sixteen men and is divided into two rooms; one for sleep and one for study. They are heated by gas stoves and many of the occupants will remember some of the coldest days of the winter when the gas pressure was low.

The boys will also remember the night of the great snow ball fight with their neighbors from fraternity row, the fun they had through intramural participation, and the excellent view of all the home football games their site gave them.

Ed Green, who hails from Findlay, Ohio, and who made his school residence in Hut E, was elected Vice President of the Freshman Class in the hotly contested race held during the first semester. He took an active part in all frosh activities during the year.

During the summer of 1946, one of the huts caught on fire and only a shell was left by the time the flames were extinguished.

The boys found that Ray Whittaker acted capably in his capacity as proctor.

The Huts

East Hall

An open house in the fall was East Hall's social debut. In its second year of occupancy as one of the men's dorms, the former army barracks has taken on more attributes of "home" for the seventy-four men living there. A decorated lounge and rooms trimmed with individuality were ready to be displayed for the open house guests.

Proctor Harmon Voskuil, assistant professor of economics, heads the self-governing dormitory body. The house policies and rules are discussed at the meetings which are presided over by the house president Russ Bollinger. The house council consists of one man from each of the three wings. This group discusses all the problems which arise.

East Hall participated in intramural sports during the year with the other men's dorms.

West Hall

West Hall which is located directly behind Falcon Heights trailer camp was home for sixty-eight men for the second year. The rooms for two contained bunks, dressers, and beds, plus the usual decoration according to individual taste.

Leland Van Scoyoc, assistant professor of economics, was proctor for the dormitory. House chairman Dave Aurelius, a member of the University Student Senate, and three representatives—one from each wing of the hall—served as the governing body for the dormitory.

An all-campus orchestra dance was sponsored by West Hall before Christmas vacation. The men have also participated in intramural sports during the year with the other dormitories.

Men's Gym

When school opened in September, approximately twenty-five of Bowling Green's Athletes were housed in the basement of the Men's Gym.

Such basketball greats as Emerson (Red) Speicher, Johnny Payak, Joe Seigferth and Bob Miller found that it was pretty handy to be close to their work. Men like Jack Freitas, Jim Knierim, Tom Inman and Max Minnich, who starred on Coach Whittaker's strong football eleven also found that living close to the gridiron and locker rooms was advantageous.

However, early in the semester, administrative authorities decided to move all men living in the gym to other quarters as the space was badly needed for classes. A large group was transferred to the huts while a few now live in the little nook on the second floor of the Natatorium.

In the last few years, the Men's Gym has figured prominently in the temporary housing of students. Extension of permanent housing facilities has allowed the gym to return to its original purpose.

Stadium Club

This men's dorm, located on the second floor of the University field house, is divided into three sections, two small ones for eighteen men each and one large unit for forty men. Each of the sections has a study room and a lounge. The Stadium Club is being used for the second year as a men's dormitory.

A second open house was sponsored by the Stadium Club during Homecoming Week-end. In the spring there was participation in intramural sports.

With the tennis courts and the track field both busy in the spring, studying is difficult. The compensation is the fact that the men live practically next door to all their classrooms.

Jim Whittaker is proctor for the Stadium Club.

Falcon Heights

This group worked long and hard at setting up policies which could be beneficial to those living in the camp. They also pushed for adequate supplies and better maintenance facilities.

Wash days seemed to be the worst problem confronting the wives as a mad dash was made each Monday for the one washing machine which was available. Harried and harassed continually, the machine limped through the school year turning out spic and span diapers, work shirts, and washable dresses.

Ridge Terrace, a camp which was made up of some sixty to seventy privately owned trailers, was located near Falcon Heights and telephone accommodations were set up at a central location for both groups. Occupants in Ridge Terrace rented their ground from the University.

Falcon Heights, a trailer camp composed of approximately fifty government-owned trailers, served as the home for many married veterans and their wives.

Their own government, which is elected every semester, started out the school year with Burnell Huffman as Mayor and Don Sheller, Bob Hall, Jack Adams, and Doryl Knepper acting as council members.

University Apartments

Last of the temporary housing to be completed was the sprawling series of units known collectively as the University Apartments. Completely surrounding North Dorm in a semi-circle, it has proved to be a life saver for many married veterans and their families.

There are eighty-two apartments altogether, each having four rooms which had to be furnished by the occupants. The rent was fairly flexible and was based pretty much on the veteran's ability to pay. Lowest rental was set at $22.50 a month.

James Epps was elected mayor and together with his council formulated policies and rules which would be beneficial to those living in the area.

The apartments had running water and were heated by gas stoves. The ingenuity of many families in making their apartments attractive through a neat job of interior decorating continually amazed visitors to the project.

Alpha Chi Omega

"Carol" lights the candles

One of the highlights of the Homecoming Weekend was the presentation of the gold cup by Alpha Chi Omega to the residence house with the best homecoming decorations.

This sorority welcomed in the new year with its second annual all-campus dance Winter Wonderland. In the spring a closed formal was held, and at this dance a "Cotton Queen" was chosen.

The wearers of the golden lyre are proud of their campus beauties. The girls proudly display the gold cup presented to Grace Kusenberg as "Snow Queen of Pi Theta Fraternity; Dee Miller was a Key Beauty finalist. Other campus leaders were Betty Sandera, president of Panhellenic Council and Velma Bisher, president of Treble Clef. Ruth Simon and Jean Graham were honored with election to Book and Motor.

The members of the sorority are eagerly looking forward to the completion of their new house on sorority row.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Who said the Alpha Gamma Deltas weren't "Apple Polishers"? Once a year all the professors, who have Alpha Gamma Deltas in their classes, are invited to what the girls call an "Apple Polishing Party", an informal get together where professors and students may become better acquainted.

Gracing the Alpha Gamma Delta lounge are two cups. One was awarded for placing first in the annual May Sing; the other, the coveted Coriell trophy, was given to Magdelene Batcha for being the outstanding senior woman in the physical education department.

Recognized campus leaders in the group are; Dot Kanouse, president of Quill Type; Mary Brechmacher and Mary Jean Wylie, Kappa Delta Pi members; and Lee Wylie, Homecoming Queen attendant.

In February and March of each year excitement runs high on Bee Gee's campus, each sorority and WIS volley for the engraved cup which is presented to the winner of the Alpha Gamma Delta bridge tournament. The Alpha Gammas also sponsor two dances; the "Spring Dream", an all-campus semi-formal, and a closed formal, held this year on February 28.

Alpha Phi

In the midst of rabbits, decoys of game birds, hunting licenses, and hunters, Alpha Phi presented their second annual all-campus stag, "A Hunting We Will Go" disc dance. In keeping with the Christmas season, Beta Omicron sponsored their traditional Christmas tea in their festively decorated house at the end of sorority row.

The twenty-five girls who pledged themselves "to the silver and bordeaux" were honored later in the year at a private formal. The month of June found the Alpha Phi's busily engaged in preparations for the annual "Farewell Formal" which climaxed another successful year for Alpha Phi.

Although very active socially, members of this sorority found time to participate actively in campus organizations and honoraries. Joyce Cotner served as president of Book and Motor; Bobbie John was editor-in-chief of the Bee Gie News; Jean Kuebler Adams was elected vice-president of AWS; Ann Cutler was appointed as a justice on Student Court; Marilyn Brown was president of International Relations Club; Jane Russell presided over Spanish Club; Pat Coughlin served as Treasurer of the Junior Class; and Jean Adams and Ann Cutler were selected for membership in Cap and Gown.

Alpha Xi Delta

Just chit-chatting

Since Beta Mu of Alpha Xi Delta was founded in April of 1943, the sorority has become a very important group on campus.

The Alpha Xi Deltas highlighted their social calendar with the traditional "Sweetheart Swing", at which time the sixth annual "King of Hearts" was presented. In addition to the "Swing" the Alpha Xi's put many hours into preparing for their closed Rose Dance formal held on May 22.

"The girls who wear the golden quill" were well represented in campus activities and organizations. Virginia Marion served as chief justice of the Student Court and business manager of the Bee Gee News; Mary Martha Buchanan and Joan Spetz were officers of AWS; and Laverne Fitzgerald was elected secretary of Student Senate.

Led by Blanche Spangler, the 45 girls of Alpha Xi Delta cooperated in sponsoring sorority functions such as open houses and sorority-fraternity football and basketball games.

Having fun!

Beaux Arts Ball

Early this fall, word was received that Lambda Lambda had been accepted by Chi Omega national sorority, and on November 22, 1947 they were installed as the Kappa Delta chapter of Chi Omega—a dream come true.

Proving that beauty and brains do mix, the girls of Chi Omega were awarded the coveted Esther Russell Scholarship Cup. The beginning of the second semester found the members of this sorority getting ready for the Beaux Arts Ball—an event anxiously awaited by the student body because of the traditional surrealism costuming.

Visitors to Williams Hall were always welcome to the sorority's attractively decorated lounge in the basement of this dormitory. Next fall, however, will find the members of Bowling Green's ninth national sorority at home on sorority row.

In addition to sorority activities, the group was well represented in dramatics, music, publications, and various other campus organizations and honoraries. Their President, Jo Shull, figured prominently in the literary field and Phyllis Sangston portrayed roles in many dramatic productions.

Delta Gamma

In the midst of glistening stars, festive Christmas trees, evergreens, and mistletoe, the Delta Gammas presented their second annual closed Christmas ball in their house on sorority row. Following a successful rushing season, the wearers of the gold and white anchor sponsored an all-campus dance in the spring.

Other sorority activities included a party given by Delta Gamma honoring the orphans of the Children's Home, and Sunday evening parties for Bowling Green fraternity men.

In addition to being active socially, the girls of Delta Gamma were well represented in publications, dramatics, departmental clubs, honoraries and student government. Doris Smart served as editor of The 1948 Key with Geraldine Griggs as editor of The Student Directory; Swan Club President Liz Roulet was selected for membership in Cap and Gown.

This year the Beta Mu chapter of Delta Gamma was awarded the Province scholarship cup for attaining the highest scholarship rating of the Delta Gamma chapters in this province.

Gamma Phi Beta

October 25th found Homecoming weekend a very successful one for Gamma Phi. In an all-campus election, Patty Bice was crowned Homecoming Queen and was presented to the student body at the Homecoming dance. To climax the weekend activities, President Betty Jane Reese accepted the cup for the outstanding Homecoming decorations. The front of the Gamma Phi house was covered by a huge spider web with "Victory, Victory Is Our Cry, Said the Spider to the Fly" as the theme.

The members of Gamma Phi Beta were active in many of the campus organizations and honoraries. Glenna Smith Myers, Cap and Gown member; Grayce Scholt, Eyas Editor; Archery Club President Marilyn Gebhart; and Betty Jane Reese and Pat Peterson, served as presidents of ACE and Psi Chi respectively.

Throughout the year the Gamma Phi's entertained various fraternities at open houses. The Christmas season found members of this sorority co-sponsoring a Christmas party with the SAE's for the orphans of the Children's Home.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta says "Happy New Year"

Topping the events on the Kappa Delta social calendar was the second annual "K.D.'s Hades". In an atmosphere of pitch-forked devils, sparkling spider webs, and smouldering pots of black magic, Jim Sponsellor was crowned "Darling Devil of K.D.'s Hades".

On October 23, Kappa Delta entertained members of other sororities and fraternities at a tea celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Kappa Delta national sorority.

Kappa Delta boasted many outstanding members of various organizations and honoraries. President of Kappa Delta, Elsie Lodge was also elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, secretary of Book and Motor, and secretary-treasurer of Pi Kappa Delta; Bee Gee News Photography Editor, Dora Terbizan was elected president of Cap and Gown.

This will be the last year that the "little white house" will be located opposite the North campus gate, as next fall will find the KD's the proud possessors of one of the new houses on sorority row.

A Phi Mu rush party

Our "castle" on paper

A Happy Birthday wish is extended to the Delta Kappa chapter of Phi Mu in honor of their first year on Bowling Green's campus. The girls who reside in the "Phi Mu Cosy", the sorority's lounge in the Women's Building, are anxiously awaiting the completion of their home on sorority row.

In surroundings of enchantress carnations, Joanne Evans and her escort were named the Enchanted Couple at Phi Mu's Enchantress Ball early in the fall. Later in the year this sorority entertained the student body at the "Spring Fever" informal dance.

Although active in the social life of the campus, Phi Mu was well represented in Bowling Green's organizations and honoraries. Their president, Louise Stallbahr, served as vice president of Student Christian Fellowship; Betty Lange was elected president of AWS; WAA was presided over by Reva Bailey; and the sorority was represented in Student Senate by Williams Hall House-board President Ruth Hausrath.

Sigma Rho Tau

I'll bid four spades!

Founded only a little more than two years ago, the members of local Sigma Rho Tau have established many traditions for themselves. One of these traditions is the "Shanghai Shag" a disc dance sponsored by the sorority last January.

The Women's Building became the temporary residence of the Sigma Rho Taus this year, when a lounge on the second floor was taken over by the sorority for living quarters until other housing facilities could be completed.

The sorority was guided by Nancy Baughman, president and Marilyn Arps, Lucille Stoneczek, and Anita Delaney. Emerald and white were selected as the sorority's colors.

Theta Phi

"Santa" came to the party too

Cleverly decorated with rainbow colors, the Women's Building was the scene of Theta Phi's annual "Rainbow Request" disc dance. It will be remembered for the original method of audience selection of recordings to be played. Later in the spring, Theta Phi presented an all-campus informal dance.

Prior to the completion of their new house on sorority row, the Theta Phis have turned the third floor of Johnston into a sorority annex.

To prove that beauty and brains do mix, two members of Theta Phi were selected for membership in Book and Motor; and AWS Treasurer Margaret Van Tilburg was chosen as the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi".

On November 3, 1947, the sorority celebrated its third anniversary with a Founder's Day dinner. Other sorority activities included a hayride, open houses, and a successful rushing season.

Sorority Row Expands

Upon completion of the new houses on Fraternity Row, the contract was signed for the construction of five new houses on Sorority Row. In the spring the ground was broken in the vacant lot immediately beyond the amphitheater.

With the increased enrollment of students, construction was begun immediately with hopes that the houses would be completed and ready for occupation in the fall of 1948.

Built in dormitory style and constructed of red brick, the houses will accommodate thirty-six girls and their housemother. These modernistic sorority houses will display French doors and terrace porches, the first of that design on the campus. A sidewalk will be constructed to connect the new houses in a semi-circular fashion.

The sororities to become the proud possessors of these new homes will move from their present residences in the fall. Taking up residence on sorority row will be Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Phi Mu and Kappa Delta.

In the near future, a sixth house will be constructed and will be occupied by the Women's Independent Society. With the completion of these six residences, sorority row will consist of housing facilities for ten women's organizations.

Soon after moving into their new home on fraternity row, the 58 members of Alpha Tau Omega revived the celebration of "Dad's Day" which will hereafter be sponsored by this fraternity as an annual event.

With the coming of basketball season, the musical talent of Alpha Tau Omega was organized into a German Band to lend spirit to pep rallies and athletic events. Completely outfitted with typical German uniforms, the band provided enjoyable entertainment for those attending these events.

In May the fraternity staged the Annual Sadie Hawkins Week dance and assembly at which time the typical dogpatch couple "Daisy Mae" and "L'il Abner" were presented. Throughout the week the women planned the dates, called for their men, and paid for the entertainment. ATO also sponsored a closed dance for its own members in late spring.

Active in campus politics were Student Senate President Bill Zimmerman, Senior Class President Gordon Ward, and Sophomore Class Treasurer Dick Reis.

Beta Sigma

A song fest

The "Dawn Dance"

The rising sun was witnessed by the members of Beta Sigma fraternity and their guests at the fraternity's annual closed "Dawn Dance." Beginning at four o'clock in the morning the couples danced in the midst of pirate decorations in the Laboratory School's gym and climaxed the event with the serving of breakfast. Costumed as the typical Captain Kidd, the "pirates" gained entrance to the cave through a realistic passage.

In January, Beta Sigma presented an all-campus "Circus Time" dance in a mock circus "big-top" decorated with the usual circus clowns and animals.

Organized on Bowling Green's campus in February, 1947, local Beta Sigma became the 10th men's fraternity. Although busily engaged in establishing themselves as a local, this fraternity has participated wholeheartedly in helping to establish University traditions. They also found time to engage actively in campus activities. Representing the group in Student Senate was Beta Sig's President Robert Eastman and on the Social Committee was Dick Fleming.

FRONT ROW: James Haas, Ronald Graves, Cortes Shepherd, William Prentice, Carl Dellasantina, Art Lauer, Samuel Morell, Preston Pugh, Bert Stock, Bob Horvath, Tom Atkinson. Kappa Sigma

Trying to trick us?

On July 8, 1946 the dream of Kappa Sigma Delta was realized, when they became the Epsilon Eta chapter of Kappa Sigma. Later on in the year, at one of the pre-game football rallies, the Kappa Sigma Delta effigy was burned and Kappa Sigma was officially recognized as the 7th national fraternity for men on Bowling Green's campus.

Early in the year the Kappa Sigs were busily engaged in preparations for their annual "Stardust Serenade". High spot of the evening, was the coronation of Lois Rudd as the "Stardust Girl" of 1947.

The Kappa Sigs are noted for their school spirit and enthusiastic participation in fraternity and campus activities. Many of us will long remember the original decorations and campaign stunts used by the Kappa Sigmas in supporting their candidates.

At the beginning of the year the Kappa Sigs were temporarily housed in the Rec Hall, but now they are the proud possessors of one of the new houses on fraternity row.

Kappa Tau

This year Kappa Tau started traditions for the fraternity. Last year they resided at East Hall, but this year with a new house on Fraternitiy Row they were all out for social doings.

In February the Kappa Taus held their closed dance and in the Spring presented an all-campus semi-formal that will become an annual event.

The fraternity is waiting to be accepted by Delta Tau Delta. At present seven members are Delts.

Kappa Taus leading the sophomore class are President Gus Horvath and Vice-President Roy Wright. The literary men are Bill Leiser and Jack Quinn on the Eyas staff. In sports, "Slivers" Thomasen played varsity basketball and tennis, Kempton Jenkins helped in the tennis field, and Bob Lightcap was seen on the baseball diamond.

Just a little bit of music

Phi Beta Mu

Phi Beta Mu became our newest local fraternity on October 1, 1947, when Interfraternity Council granted approval for their organization. The members of newly organized Phi Beta Mu have already petitioned National, Zeta Beta Tau. With an increase in membership and the acquisition of a house, the men are looking forward to becoming Zeta Beta Taus by spring.

Living up to the old maxim "small but mighty", Phi Beta Mu was active in intramural sports, campus organizations, and honoraries. During the second semester the fraternity sponsored an all-campus dance.

Officers of the fraternity are Stan Gordon, president; Harold Jaffe, vice president; Harry Spector, secretary; and Joseph Finkelstein, treasurer. The Fraternity chose blue and white for their colors and "Success and Companionship" as their motto.

Phi Delta

When you wore a tulip

The Phi Deltas were out for glory the day they were presented with the gold trophy for their "man about town" float in the Key Parade. To top this, their candidate, Gail Austin, was finalist in the big contest. They were proud, too, when they placed second for homecoming decorations.

During the gridiron season the Phi Deltas added pep and noise to the football games with their ear-splitting train engine bell. The bell accompanied them to every game until it "mysteriously disappeared".

An outstanding member of the fraternity is "Drol Trevlac" (Lord Calvert), the Phi Deltas' regal Great Dane, who truly is lord and master of the house.

Some of the most active members of the fraternity are: John White, in Book and Motor and Kappa Delta Pi; Gail Keever, secretary-treasurer of Inter-Fraternity Council; and Tom Stubbs, Varsity Club secretary. The Phi Delt with the artistic ability is Don Deitesfeld, president of Art Club and art editor of the Key.

Socially speaking, their closed "Gay Nineties" party, held at the house, provided something different and lots of fun for the Phi Deltas and their dates.

Our closed formal

An altar, organ loft, stained glass windows, worshipping figures, and "Peace On Earth", all symbolical of the Yuletide season, won the SCF Christmas decorations award for Pi Kappa Alpha. This is the second consecutive year that the fraternity has received the cup.

In February, the Pi Kaps presented their annual Dream Girl Dance at which the "Dream Girl of Pi K A" was presented. The group also sponsored several closed dances throughout the year for its members and their guests.

In the field of intramural sports, the Pi Kaps "pulled their punches" right and came out victorious in the wrestling matches. Outstanding in many campus activities, the Pi K A's were well represented in publications, music, and dramatics. James Dunn was appointed student director of A Capella Choir.

Taking up residence in the Rec Hall, prior to moving to the Chapter's new home on fraternity row, the fraternity was led by Bill Sherman. During the second semester Virgil Droll served as president.

Pi Theta

On March 12, 1947, Pi Theta, the 11th men's fraternity, was approved by Interfraternity Council. Guided by Guy Smith, president, and Faculty Advisor, Mr. Harmon Voskuil, the members of local Pi Theta carried out a very successful year on Bee Gee's campus.

In September, the members of this group prepared to move into their new fraternity house on East Court Street. December found the fraternity in the process of establishing Pi Theta traditions, with the sponsoring of Pi Theta's "Snow Ball". Grace Kusenberg was presented as the Pi Theta "Snow Queen of 1947".

With a membership of 14 in September, other fraternity officers were elected: Fred Eickmeyer, vice-president; Dick Soderberg, secretary; and Gene Superko, treasurer. The fraternity chose maroon and silver for their colors.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

As the members sang "I love you, sweetheart of SAE," another sweetheart was chosen at the annual Tip-Off dance, the highlight of the social program for the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

With Jim Baxter at the head of the fraternity which numbers one hundred twenty members, they were recognized as the largest organized social group on the campus.

In January the pledges honored the actives with a closed formal "The Plantation Ball".

A Christmas party at the Children's Home was another important event for the SAE's this year. Their fraternity house on Main Street was re-decorated as a project undertaken by the entire fraternity.

Sigma Chi

Chi Sigma is dead
long live Sigma Chi

With the funeral procession and burying of Chi Sigma, the local started in 1945, Sigma Chi was born on Bee Gee's campus.

First on the Sig social calendar was their second annual Sweetheart Dance. Margaret VanTilberg was chosen the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi by John Powers from photographs submitted by each women's organization on campus. Another important social event was the Sigma Chi closed formal in the spring.

Derby Day sponsored by the Sigma Chi's has become a tradition at Bowling Green. Each group on campus participates in the egg-throwing contests, tugs of war, wheelbarrow races and other skill tests. The fraternity presented cups to both the sorority and fraternity winners.

Al Emerick, President of Inter-Fraternity Council, Roger Linn, a Key King finalist, and Al Reed and Dane Barber, Book and Motor members show the important part played in campus affairs by the Sigma Chis.

Sigma Nu

Study?—Don't kid us!

With Johnny Long's especially autographed picture holding an important place in the lounge, the men of the "White Star" became the proud possessors of one of the new houses on fraternity row. The new house looked good after a 12 week stay in the Rec Hall.

Although this group went national at Bowling Green only a little more than two years ago, they have become one of the most active groups on campus. This year after many hard-fought games, they won the intramural football trophy, and also figured very prominently in other intramural sports.

As in past years, the fraternity held their traditional Moonlight Dance, at which time the Moonlight Couple was presented. This dance, in addition to their closed formal and open houses, highlighted their social calendar for the year.

Tickling the Ivories

On December 6, 1947 it was announced that the local fraternity, Chi Theta, had been accepted by the national fraternity, Theta Chi. Although each individual member is a Theta Chi, they did not become a national chapter until Spring, when their charter was granted.

The Theta Chis established a tradition, when early in the Fall the members "threw" the second annual "Beanie Brawl", for freshmen students. The freshmen were required to wear their orange and brown beanies in order to be admitted to the dance. The Theta Chis feel that a dance of this type offers an excellent opportunity for freshmen to become better acquainted.

In the Spring, May 15, 1948, the Theta Chis sponsored their annual all campus semi-formal.

Book and Motor

The maintenance of a 3.4 average and an interest in extra-curricular activities were the requirements necessary for admittance into Book and Motor, campus scholastic honorary.

Initiation of new members takes place twice a year after students have met the required qualifications and have been voted upon by the group. On January 18th an initiation ceremony was held for 69 new members. The Rev. Arthur W. Olsen of Toledo was the guest speaker for this affair. A banquet was given in the spring and at this time initiation was held for those additional students who had met the standards of this organization.

This year's officers for Book and Motor were Irene Ellis, president; Arthur Miller, vice-president; and Norma Mack, secretary.

Dr. Walter Zaugg of the psychology department was elected treasurer of the group.

One of the new initiates this year, Ann Winslow, had the distinction of being the daughter of one of the founders of the organization when it was established at Bowling Green in 1914. It is one of the oldest honoraries on the Bowling Green campus.

Cap and Gown

One of the highest honors to be attained by women students at Bowling Green is selection for membership in Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary. This organization is similar to the national Mortar Board. Membership in Cap and Gown is based upon high scholastic standing, and outstanding work in campus activities. Seven students were honored by selection for membership this year.

The girls who were chosen for this honorary were initiated in the early morning hours of Honors Day. At Honors Day exercises these girls' names were revealed to the student body and faculty.

This year, Cap and Gown sponsored a paper drive in February and conducted a survey among senior women for the Towle Sterling Silver Company. Other activities were sponsored by the group later in the spring.

Dora Terbizan was elected president of Cap and Gown for the year 1947, while Dean Audrey K. Wilder and local members of Mortar Board served as advisors.

Beta Pi Theta

Beta Pi Theta, the French national honorary, founded at Bowling Green in 1936, is the third oldest honorary on campus.

In order to become a member of this organization one must have a minimum of a "B" average in French as well as a high general average. Candidates for membership were also required to write an essay in French which was read and approved by the group as an entrance requirement.

As in past years, at Christmas the organization went to the Wood County Children's Home where they entertained the children with carols sung in French. After the caroling the group sponsored a party for the children.

Meetings were held twice a month. Programs included talks of famous French personages such as Claude Debussy.

This honorary, although it is a national organization, has been inactive since the war as far as national activity is concerned. However, individual chapters such as the one at Bowling Green continue to function.

Faculty adviser for Beta Pi Theta was Dr. Cecil L. Rew, associate professor of foreign languages.

Kappa Delta Pi

Juniors and seniors in the College of Education who showed "commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals and sound scholarship" were invited to join Kappa Delta Pi, national educational honorary society. January initiation found fifty-five new members entering Kappa Delta Pi.

Interesting programs for the year included reports from members on their experiences with off-campus teaching and lectures by prominent persons in the field of education.

In February, Elsie Lodge, president of the organization, attended the national convention at Atlantic City.

An Honors Tea was given in the Spring for all freshman and sophomores in the field of education who achieved a "B" average in all subjects.

Dr. Walter Zaugg is faculty advisor for the society. Other officers for the group include Earl Mort, vice-president, and Pat Hiser, secretary.

Kappa Mu Epsilon

Kappa Mu Epsilon, mathematics honorary, was organized to promote scholarship and to advance interest in mathematics. It extends mutual relationships and a chance for acquaintance of those students who are mathematics majors and minors. For membership a student must be enrolled in the second semester of Calculus, maintain a high scholastic standing in mathematics and attain accreditable grades in all other subjects.

Dr. Ogg presided as faculty advisor at the monthly meetings. These meetings were devoted to speakers from other departments who demonstrated the application of mathematics in their fields of study, and to the construction of models which illustrated mathematical relationships and space figures. The lectures gave valuable information to the students while the projects gave experience and visual aid.

Officers elected during the year were Charles Peterson, president; Robert Schneider, vice-president; and Phyllis Blosser, secretary.

Phi Alpha Chi

Reactivated after being dormant for five years, Phi Alpha Chi accounting fraternity took its place in the ranks of Bowling Green's honorary societies during the fall of 1947. For membership in the organization, a student must be enrolled in the college of Business Administration, an accounting major with an average of 2.5 in accounting, and an accumulative of 2.0 in all courses.

The purpose of the honorary is to promote and foster the development of the highest ethical ideals among its members. Led by its president Paul Monroe, and faculty advisor Mr. Schmeltz, organization meetings were held twice each month, at which time the members were addressed by outstanding men in the field of accounting.

Phi Sigma Mu

Phi Sigma Mu, national music educational honorary, was under the able direction of President Marilyn Weisz and Faculty Advisor Miss Myrtle Jensen for the year 1948.

To be eligible for membership a student is required to be a music major and attain a 3.0 average the first semester of his sophomore year.

At the opening of school, Phi Sigma Mu entertained the students and faculty of the music department at a party. Other activities of the music honorary included contributions to the national quarterly publication, "The Harp." The twelve active members also served as ushers for all University musical programs.

Other officers for 1948 were: James Dunn, vice-president; Marion Banning, secretary; and Lois St. Aubin, treasurer.

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary, highlighted its activities this year with the sponsorship of the first annual debate tournament at Bowling Green. This affair was held on campus in February.

Each fraternity, sorority, dorm and independent social group was eligible to enter two debate teams. The debate topics were questions of campus controversy chosen by the organizations participating. Members of the debate honorary were ineligible to enter the contest. A large loving cup was presented by Pi Kappa Delta to the winning organization.

The debate team also sponsored a speech clinic for the benefit of high schools in Northwestern Ohio.

Pi Kappa Delta made many trips to intercollegiate contests in Ohio and neighboring states. Members had a very successful year and won a large number of first places in the contests which they entered.

The group had monthly meetings and also held occasional social gatherings.

Ray Yeager was elected president of the organization, and Prof. M. H. Milke of the speech department was the faculty adviser.

Pi Omega Pi

The purpose of Pi Omega Pi, the national honorary fraternity for business majors, was to encourage interest and scholarship in prospective business education teachers.

In order to become a member of this organization, one must have a 2.75 average in business and also have been voted upon by the active members of the group. Meetings were held once a month.

In January Pi Omega Pi held a social get-together for all the honorary organizations on campus. Present at this affair were representatives of all national honoraries. This has become a traditional affair sponsored by the group. As in previous years, a Business Education Institute was held in the spring. Representatives from various business companies gave talks and demonstrations of the latest business machines. Also guests of the group at this time were business men, high school teachers and others interested in the business field.

A news bulletin was published annually and sent to all chapters and alumni of the organization.

Lois Rubel was elected president for the year and Prof. John Davidson served as adviser to the group.

Pi Sigma Alpha

Organized in the Spring of 1947, the Political Science Club was accepted by the national Pi Sigma Alpha a few months later. Dr. Charles Barrell was advisor for the honorary, whose requirements are a "B" average in ten hours of Political Science, one of which must be a Junior course.

Initiation for new members was held twice during the year. The organization sponsored a formal initiation banquet after the initiation in the spring.

Led by Warren Ludwig, the group met frequently during the year for the purpose of discussing present-day conditions and problems related to Political Science.

Psi Chi

In the spring of 1947, the goal of the Psychology Club was realized when its petition was accepted and a charter was granted by Psi Chi, National Honorary Society of Psychology.

Active membership to Psi Chi was limited to those who had completed nine hours of "B" in Psychology and maintained a 2.7 accumulative average. Associate membership required six hours of "B" in Psychology and maintenance of a 2.4 accumulative. Both required enrollment in three additional hours of psychology.

At the semi-monthly meetings, presided over by Pat Peterson, a variety of programs was introduced. Dr. E. E. Emme served as faculty advisor and the Psychology faculty were interested members. Outside speakers lectured on different phases of psychology. The students themselves participated in panel discussions on fields of study in which they were interested. These programs kept the members informed of new trends and extended interest to several fields.

Sigma Tau Delta

With a membership limited to twelve, requirements were necessarily strict for entrance into Sigma Tau Delta, the national English honorary. Not only must a "B" average be maintained in English but applicants must also show originality and promise in the fields of writing and literature. Those students who met these qualifications were voted upon by the active members of the organization.

The group met twice a month at the home of Dr. Rea McCain, faculty adviser for the honorary. At the meetings recent literature was discussed either by members of the group or by individuals invited to the meetings. Book reviews and criticisms of current best sellers were also presented.

In the fall of the year Sigma Tau Delta gave a coffee hour for all members of the English faculty. The organization also co-sponsored a tea in honor of Lennox Robinson, the Irish playwright, after the presentation of "The Plough and the Stars."

As in the past, one of the major projects for the year was the writing of the script for the presentation of the May Queen at the May Day ceremonies.

Theta Alpha Phi

With a tea in honor of Mr. Lennox Robinson, Irish playwright, following the play "The Plough and the Stars", Theta Alpha Phi started a busy year.

Requirements for membership into the national dramatic honorary included participation in the various phases of play production. Old members of Masque and Mantle, local predecessor of Theta Alpha Phi, were also eligible for membership in the organization.

At their regular meetings throughout the year the group participated in various programs pertaining to the field of drama.

In January, initiation was held for four collegiate members admitted to the group. At the same time, Lennox Robinson and Sara Allgood, noted Hollywood actress, were initiated as honorary members of the society, for their commendable work in Mr. Robinson's production, "The Lucky Finger."

Patricia Hiser served as president of the dramatic honorary and Mr. Elden Smith served in an advisory capacity.

Claude Huard, Sidney Freeman, Elden T. Smith, Lee Miesle, Pat Hiser, Phyllis Sangston, Richard Price, Kenneth Keagle.

Sicsic

Again this year, a look of amazement crossed the faces of the students as they read and reread the large banners across the stairs of the Well and around the walls of the Men's Gym and found the many posters on trees and residence doors. These notices all urged student support of the coming football and basketball games and were signed "SICSIC." New students inquired: "What is SICSIC?" "Who are the members?" "Who sponsors the organization?"

SICSIC, a secret honorary organization is sponsored by President Prout who introduced the organization to the campus a year ago for the purpose of gaining student support for campus activities. Membership of the group is made up of students selected from each class. Senior members of the organization are introduced to the student body at the Honor's Day assembly in June.

Still keeping its membership secret SICSIC continued throughout the year to further campus spirit and maintain support for the remaining athletic events.

Outstanding among the activities of SICSIC this year were the spirited pre-game pep rallies held throughout the football season.

Association of Childhood Education

The Association of Childhood Education is a national organization formed for majors and minors in elementary education. Sponsors for this group are Miss Cora Day of the Ridge Street School and Miss Elsie Lorenz of the University School.

At the monthly meetings lectures were given by Bowling Green faculty members and supervisors and principals of other surrounding schools. The problems of the elementary school teacher were discussed in the panels and round-table discussions which were held by the group. During Book Week in the fall, the meetings were devoted to reviews of children's books by the students.

In the spring the election of officers was completed for the coming year, followed by the installation of those officers in May.

For the past year, Betty Jane Reese served as president; June Cater, vice-president; Wilma Auten Horvath, secretary; Jeannette Auten, treasurer; and Velma Bisher, publicity agent.

Art Club

Art Club, one of the newly organized clubs on campus, had a very successful year. This organization hopes to affiliate with Delta Phi Delta very soon, and they are completing plans for this event.

The club, which is composed of 32 members, sponsored a number of Saturday morning art and hobby classes. As in the past year, they also aided with the Beaux Arts Ball, an unusual and extremely popular social event. The exhibits which were seen in the art building were placed there with the aid of this organization. They also conducted a number of museum tours for their members.

The organization also conducted a great deal of the publicity for other departments in the university. The attractive signs telling of various meetings and social events were all done by this new club.

The advisor for the group is Esko Rentola, instructor in the art department. Lectures at many of the meetings included the subjects of Mexico and aesthetics.

The purpose and aim of the Art Club is to further interest in art not only among Bowling Green students but among townspeople as well.

Biology Club

The Bowling Green Biology Club is the group organized to promote and maintain interest in the field of biology. The club extends scholastic and social relationship to all those biology majors and minors who are interested in keeping up with new events and experiences.

Recently formed by active students and faculty members of the Biology Department, the club served the purpose of bringing to its members, topics of special interest. As co-sponsors of the Science-Day project, the Biology Club assisted in supervising the visit of these high school students and in encouraging them to select the right profession.

At the monthly meetings, lectures and discussions were held and movies on current phases of biology were enjoyed. Several joint meetings were held with the Pre-Med Club. The social activities of the year were climaxed by a picnic for the club members in the spring.

Officers of the club were Bill Mate, president; Tom Weaver, vice-president; and Orpha Holman, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Meyers served as faculty advisor.

Chemical Journal Club

Founded to stimulate and encourage an interest in all phases of chemical activity, the Chemical Journal Club meets twice monthly to carry out this aim.

Reviews of current publications on chemical activities are often presented by members, with group discussions on these topics generally following. Special motion pictures illustrating various occupational fields in chemistry have also been presented at meetings.

Lectures given by men connected with various fields of chemistry often interest the members. Dr. Cannon from the Heinz Company was one of the speakers last fall. Dr. Hoppens, research director for the Sun Oil Company in Toledo, also addressed the group.

Membership in Chem Journal Club is open to all majors and minors in chemistry who have completed at least 4 hours in that subject. Others eligible for membership are those students who have completed at least 12 hours in chemistry. A "B" average in the subject is also a necessary prerequisite.

Each year the organization presents an award to the freshman who has done the most outstanding work in chemistry.

Recreation for the group was taken care of in the form of a wiener roast last fall. An annual picnic is also held each spring for all members and faculty advisors.

Officers this year were: Phyllis Blosser, president; Mary Helen Allstetter, vice-president; Jean Sampson, secretary; Orpha Holman, treasurer; and Ilona Pohlod, corresponding secretary. The group's advisor is Dr. W. H. Hall.

Comte Club

Comte Club is composed of students who are either majors or minors in the field of sociology. The group has a membership of about thirty students. Meetings were held once a month and at these meetings lectures were given by authorities in the sociological field. The speaker was usually a member of the university's sociology department, or an outside speaker called in for that purpose.

The lectures concerned the various phases of social work. They aimed to acquaint those interested with the opportunities which arise in sociology and its related fields. At the conclusion of the lectures, discussion periods were held so that the members of the club would have an opportunity to ask questions of the speaker.

A number of the speakers who visited the campus during Christian Living Emphasis Week, spoke to the Comte Club. Advisor for the group is Dr. Lowrie, associate head of the sociology department. Officers of the organization this year were: Maryanne Zepka, president; Rosemary Romaker, vice-president; Ann McGraw, secretary; and Margaret Harms, treasurer.

As in past years, a picnic was held in the spring by the club which climaxed the organization's activities for the season.

El Circulo Hispanoamericano

Latin American Students attending this University and students with a 2.5 point average with at least a "B" average in Spanish were eligible for membership in "El Circulo Hispanoamericano".

The purpose of the club was to inform and create an active interest in the Latin American countries. Mixers were held in which Latin American students demonstrated and instructed their native games and dances.

"Hispanoamericano Hop", a disc Dance, was one of the social events sponsored by the club. A booth, Spanish Inn, was the club's contribution toward the World Student Service Fund at the WSSF carnival.

A banquet in honor of Cervantes, a Spanish author, was held on April 21. An essay and poem contest was held on this date and the winners awarded bronze Spanish coins.

Officers for the club were: Jane Russell, president; June Rankin, vice-president; Marilyn Shane, secretary; and Patricia Coughlin, treasurer.

Emerson Literary Society

Emerson Literary Society, guided by Faculty Adviser John Schwarz and President Art Lauer, is proud of its standing as the oldest of all student organizations on campus.

The main feature of the society is practice in Parliamentary procedure. The members apply this practice when they participate in the programs of the organization. The most enjoyable programs of the year were the ones at which members voted for full steak dinners at the faculty advisor's home and the purchase of an elaborate clubhouse for the organization. Also on the agenda were panel discussions, debates, forums and a mock trial in which all members participated. This year a National Republican convention was held during which the members carried on proceedings to nominate a party candidate (the Democratic candidate being obvious) for president.

In January the group held its muscle testing taffy pull, and in May their annual wiener roast was enjoyed by all.

Geography Club

Deep down in the basement of the Administration Bldg., activities of Geography and Geology students added to the laurels of Bee Gee. As the Geography Club in the early part of the year, this organization got off to a fast start.

Later, after the above picture was taken, the founding of Upsilon chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, a national Geology and Geography honorary brought another first to the Bowling Green campus. The first chapter of the honorary to be founded in the state of Ohio was installed on February 10, 1948. Prof. Leroy Myers was instrumental in bringing about the formation of the local chapter.

The purpose of the organization is to promote interest among students in the fields of geology and geography. Shortly after it was installed, the fraternity sponsored a lecture by Professor William H. Hobbs, the eminent glaciologist.

The officers of Gamma Theta Upsilon were: Robert Chadwick, president; Martin Hallabrin, vice president; Keith Harris, treasurer; and Mary Ellen Kohli, secretary.

Home Economics Club

Membership in Home Economics Club, a semi-professional, social organization is open to those students who have taken at least one semester of home economics. No special scholastic requirements are necessary.

The group is a member of the Ohio and the American Home Economics Association, a national group which fosters interest and participation in the various fields of home economics.

During the fall semester, representatives from Bowling Green attended a convention which included delegates from colleges and universities throughout northwestern Ohio.

Special guest speakers attended many of the Home Ec Club meetings. An airline stewardess whose mother was one of the founders of the Home Economics department at Bowling Green, visited the group and spoke of her work and the qualifications necessary for her particular job.

The Christmas party was a popular social gathering for the club this year. Dickens' "Christmas Carol" was read and Miss Johnson of the Home Economics Department gave a demonstration on the creation of novel Christmas cards and decorations.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club was open to all majors and minors in the field of Industrial Arts, to better acquaint prospective Industrial Arts teachers with happenings in their field.

In order to accomplish this aim the club has had as speakers many outstanding men in the field. Among them were J. Theodore Seaman, supervisor of trade and industry in Sandusky Public Schools; Arthur W. Craft, Lima Public Schools; Dwight Spayth, Bluffton Public Schools; Professor Klausen, Bluffton College; and Professor Dean Kettle, Ohio Northern University. The State Supervisor of Industrial Arts, Mr. P. S. Waldeck, attended several of the meetings.

Other programs of educational nature were movies concerning industry, and field trips through industrial plants in Fostoria and Toledo. Visits were also made to local plants.

Members of the organization formed a hobby group during the past year, to allow interested persons to use the shop for working on their hobbies. Monday nights were set aside for this purpose.

Meetings were held on the first Wednesday of each month. Membership mounted to 72, as compared with the 33 members of last year.

John A. Shaw was chosen to lead the club, with Tom Powell serving as vice-president, and Don Mericle acting as secretary-treasurer. Advisors of the club are Professor E. C. Powell and Professor Roland Torgerson.

International Relations Club

Proving to the people that our school was conscious of the active development of a "One World" during this critical period of foreign and domestic diplomacy was the International Relations Club. It was composed of students interested in discussing the past, present, and future diplomatic policies of all countries.

Dr. Jacqueline Timm, faculty advisor, was the inspiration behind the club's activities. Under her guidance the group met the first Wednesday of every month to carry on round table discussions.

Throughout the year foreign students and faculty members gave informal talks and answered questions presented by the students. In addition, a film covering the United Nations and some human interest scenes of foreign lands was rented for one of the regular meetings.

Each year two members are elected to represent their group at the Tri-State Convention (Kentucky, West Virginia, and Ohio). This year the two went to West Virginia University at Morgantown on April 23 and 24. For these two days the campus of the host college was a flurry of rushing, visiting students striving to absorb the many subjects covered by quest statesmen from the international field. From this gathering the students took notes, gathered all the current news possible, then came home and reported to their club all they had learned for further debate.

There are over 1000 International Relations Clubs throughout the universities and colleges of this country, all sponsored by the National Carnegie Institute.

Pre-Engineer's Club

With an increased enrollment in pre-engineering courses, the Pre-Engineer's Club found it necessary to expand to meet the demands of the students.

The purpose of the club was to inform and create an interest in the various phases of engineering for those students entering that field. John Fox was elected to serve as president for the year. Dr. Bowman, Mr. Singer, and Mr. Raney acted in an advisory capacity for the group.

Meetings of the group were devoted to lectures and demonstrations by outside speakers who were authorities in their particular fields. A representative of the Toledo Edison Company spoke on electrical engineering and showed movies to illustrate that field of engineering. Loren Janzer, Urschel Engineering Company of Bowling Green, returned as a guest speaker to explain the opportunities of entering the engineering field. An engineer from the Toledo branch of the Willy's Overland Corporation explained some of the many phases of transportation engineering, including construction work and road maintenance.

Pre-Medical Club

Students that were interested in medicine as a career made up the enrollment of the Pre-Med Club, one of the more recently organized clubs on the campus.

These students met for the purpose of discussion and to gain knowledge along medical lines. Outside speakers were brought in throughout the year to speak on the fields in which they specialized.

One of the outstanding undertakings of the organization was their journey to the Maumee Valley Hospital. At the hospital the group was allowed to observe operations that were being performed at that time.

Charles Werner was elected president of the club. Other officers included Bernie Beers, vice-president; Frank Lyons, secretary; and Tom Kilmer, treasurer. Dr. Frank Meserve, Assistant Professor in the Biology department, was advisor for the group. As such, Dr. Meserve was available for individual student conferences at which time members could obtain information and suggestions concerning the phase of medicine in which they were interested.

Press Club

The Bowling Green Press Club completed its second year with achievements which both the members and the student body will remember.

It was through the efforts of this organization that the two local journalism honoraries were founded—Sigma Delta for the men, and Theta Sigma for the women.

In addition to establishing these honoraries, the Press Club sponsored many all-campus activities. They made it possible for the Bee Gee students to attend the "Migration Day" football game at Miami University. Through the efforts of the Press Club, a suitable trophy to be awarded to the winner of the Bowling Green-Toledo basketball game each year, was made possible. A handcarved "Peace Pipe" was chosen as a suitable trophy for the winner of the renewed rivalry. The five-minute newscast aired over the new campus radio station, WRSM, each day was written and broadcast by the members of this organization.

Social activities of the Press Club included a spaghetti dinner for all journalism students and a "Publication Dinner" in cooperation with the Journalism Department at the end of the year.

Officers for the year were: John Fay, president; John Dyer, vice-president; Luceal Foley, secretary; and Robert Scott, treasurer.

Quill Type

The outstanding activity of Quill Type this year was the initial publication of "On the QT." Bob Hoskinson served as editor of this newspaper which is sent to alumni members of the group.

This campus organization is composed of business education majors and minors and students who have had at least fifteen hours of business courses.

Quill Type went to Painesville this fall for the installation of a chapter of Future Business Leaders of America at the high school there.

In October, twenty-six new members were initiated into the organization. At this time the four new faculty members in the business department were taken into the club. Quill Type now has a membership of approximately sixty people. Meetings are held twice a month. Advisor for the organization is Dr. E. G. Knepper, head of the business department.

Officers for Quill Type this year were: Betty Lou Riedmiller, president; Bob Hoskinson, vice-president; Rachael Addicott, secretary; and Carl Spicer, treasurer. Bob Cawling was named editor of the monthly publication and Dick Becker, associate editor for the second semester.

Rifle Club

In the fall of 1947, Bee Gee's Rifle Club was re-organized when its charter was re-instated by the National Rifle Association. The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in a competitive sport that is creating attention in many American colleges and universities.

Busy with the reorganization of the chapter during the first semester, the members found little time to devote to interscholastic rifle activities. However, the second semester found the club sponsoring national intercollegiate meets, amateur team competition, and varsity and freshmen matches.

Under the guidance of Faculty Advisor, Dave Mathews, and Rifle Club President, Rodger Powell, the organization enjoyed a successful year. Other officers of the Organization were: John McCutchin, vice president; Dorothy Bradford, secretary; and Don Speck, treasurer.

Usherette Club

Usherettes Club was formed this year to meet the demand for ushers at the speech department activities.

In addition to ushering at dramatic productions, the group functioned at many other campus activities. Among these was the Christmas recital.

Muffi Casini, founder of the organization, was elected president. The club originated due to the continued demand for efficient ushers for university activities.

Other officers were: Virginia Cerny, secretary-treasurer and Miss Mary Fournier, faculty advisor.

Workshop Players

First steps toward the Bowling Green stage are made when newcomers join Workshop Players, campus dramatics organization for freshmen.

Students who are interested in any phase of theatre work are eligible for membership. Tryouts are held at the beginning of each semester and as a membership requirement, prospective initiates are asked to give a reading taken from the script of some play.

At regular meetings, the members sample all types of theatre work. Many of them participate in the major dramatic productions held on campus. Others, less interested in actually appearing across the "boards", work back stage, helping with publicity, costumes, lights, and scenery.

Other features of the meetings are lectures on various phases of theatre activities. Authorities in their individual fields offer illustrative advice and constructive criticism to the members.

One activity is the complete production of one-act plays by members of the organization. Various students act in, direct, and do all work technically necessary for the production of the finished product. These plays are then presented during meeting for the other members' approbation or criticism.

Commons Club

The newly organized Commons Club was set up so that students of different religious and racial backgrounds might learn to know one another better.

To become a member of the club a 50% vote was required. This system was used so that more students desiring membership would be admitted.

Officers for the club were: President, Michael Sophos; Vice-President, Donald Christofer; Treasurer, Bob Kusmer; and Secretary, Kurt Harris.

One of the most important projects sponsored by the group was the fight song contest. The winner, Jack Kocher, was announced at a half time program during the Bowling Green-Findlay basketball game. He was presented with a loving cup at that time. The song was presented by the members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. The words of the song are:

Give a cheer of Bowling Green again,
For we are the mightiest of men.
The years may come, the years may go,
But yet our teams will always fight to victory we know;
And so our cheers are ringing out once more,
Telling of our ever rising score.
A happy throng, we'll sing a song,
To our dear old BGU.

Women's Independent Society

The Women's Independent Society is an organization with no definite requirements except an interest in the society itself and the desire to promote the fostering of campus leadership among women students. It is open to all independent women who wish to affiliate.

Homecoming weekend, Bowling Green alumni and collegiates danced midst decorations of bright mums and colorful autumn leaves at the homecoming dance presented by the organization. In the spring, W. I. S. sponsored an all-campus disc dance.

A main feature of W. I. S. is its traditional breakfast given for newly elected Book and Motor members. The members are awakened at sunrise of some undisclosed date and carried off to a surprise breakfast.

The Women's Independent Society originated on the campus in 1946 and now boasts of a membership of eighty women. Guided by Mary Helen Alstetter meetings are held monthly for all members. Subordinate interest groups meet twice a month.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council is a representative organization of the eleven women's fraternities on campus, established to promote inter-group cooperation and spirit. Panhellenic establishes rushing rules and methods governing personal contacts between freshmen women and sorority members, and regulating parties and rushing schedules.

Early last fall, following a conducted tour of sorority open houses, Panhellenic gave a tea in honor of all freshmen women. Freshmen women were thus able to become acquainted with sorority members and Panhellenic could carry out a successful nine-weeks' rushing.

In accord with the custom to entertain sororities newly nationalized, Panhellenic sponsored a tea for the Kappa Delta Chapter of Chi Omega, formerly the local Lambda Lambda Lambda Sorority.

Perhaps one of the most important events of the year was the Panhellenic serving at a reception given in honor of Lennox Robinson, Irish playwright and visiting professor, and Sara Allgood, screen actress. The reception climaxed University opening night of Mr. Robinson's play, "Lucky Finger".

Each year representatives of Panhellenic promote the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

Standing for good scholarship, Panhellenic presents the Esther Russell Scholarship Cup semi-annually to the sorority whose point average is highest on campus. Awarded the first semester to Chi Omega, the presentation was made at a meeting in the Rec Hall.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council, composed of representatives from each of the 11 men's fraternities, turned in another year of achievement as the governing body of the Greek men's organizations. The Council continued its work of fostering relations among the fraternities on Bowling Green's campus.

In addition to maintaining a high degree of unity among the fraternities, the council completed a number of other outstanding accomplishments. One of its proudest achievements was the formulation of a new Inter-Fraternity Constitution. In addition to this, the organization set up a new group of rules to be followed in the pledge program of men's fraternities.

In May the Council, in cooperation with Wood County Inter-Fraternity Council, sponsored the annual Greek Week. The weeks program was highlighted by the annual banquet followed by an address by a prominent fraternity official.

Inter-Fraternity Council was led by a different set of officers each semester. The first semester officers were: Alexander Emerick, president; Arthur Lauer, vice-president; and Gail Keever, secretary-treasurer. The second semester officers were: Walt Ettinger, president; Gail Keever, vice-president; and Neil Rattray, secretary-treasurer. Dean Arch B. Conklin was the Council's faculty representative.

Association of Women Students

Serving for the educational and social ideals of the University, the Association of Women Students brings to campus a truly representative form of government. Established to protect the best interests of women students, AWS maintains a vigorous program throughout the school year.

Although the goal is efficient and democratic government, AWS nevertheless fosters and cherishes friendship. This purpose is actively made known to freshmen women upon their arrival in the fall. An informal stunt night was held for them during the first week of college and an after-hour party was given the first night.

True to tradition, AWS sponsored the seventh annual Leadership Dinner with outstanding women leaders on campus as guests. Miss Adah Pierce, Chairman of the Sociology Department at Hiram College, was the inspirational speaker. Guests then signed the coveted and honored Guest Book.

The Christmas season was made even more bright with the AWS all-campus Christmas Formal and Carol Sing. Decorations at the Christmas Formal were seasonally gay with a huge blue-lighted tree in the center of the floor and snow flakes falling softly from the ceiling. The Carol Sing, from dormitory to dormitory, was brought to an impressive close with the A Cappella Choir's singing of "Silent Night" by candlelight in the Circle.

Student Senate

Student Senate has done more this year than in any other year of its existence as the student government of this university. Organized to consider and solve problems between the student body and the institution, Student Senate worked hand in hand with the administration throughout the year.

Among the many accomplishments of the Senate was the revision of the constitution to accommodate the need for increased representation of the student body. Steps were taken by the Senate to stimulate interest and publicity in campus elections. Parking and smoking rules were formulated by this governing body and enforced by the Student Court. A suggestion box was constructed and placed in the Well for the suggestions or protests of the students—an effective method of obtaining student opinions on vital campus issues.

The annual University Anniversary Prom was held May 14th. With music by Johnny Long and his orchestra, the prom was a bigger success than ever.

Officers of the Student were: Bill Zimmerman, president; Reva Bailey replaced Marion Banning the second semester as vice president; Jean Grosenbaugh succeeded Laverne Fitzgerald as secretary for the second semester; and Glenn Knerr served as treasurer.

STUDENT COURT: Dorothy Bradford, Bob Burger, Joe Mecurio, Virginia Marion, Ann Cutler, Daryl Knepper, Dr. Pierce.

The main purpose of SCF is to bring together students of varying interests and religious backgrounds into a common fellowship in order that they might find outlets for these interests and work and build together toward their one common goal. Their concern is placed on individual needs and on campus and world problems in an effort to help students develop a mature Christian faith.

Beginning its 3rd year of activity, the Student-Christian Fellowship sponsored "Christian Living Emphasis Week" early last November.

On the campus at this time were some of the nation's outstanding youth leaders, including: Rev. Sam Smith of the Student Volunteer Movement and missionary from Liberia, Africa; Dr. John Oliver Nelson, editor of the Intercollegian

Student Christian Fellowship

Magazine; Dr. George A. Buttrick of the Madison Ave. Presbyterian Church in New York; Mrs. Josephine Kyles; and Prof. S. K. Patro of India.

Stimulating school spirit, the Campus Action Interest Group sponsored its annual Christmas Spirit contest and presented a gold trophy to the Pi Kappa Alphas for having the most unique and original Christmas decorations.

Just before Christmas vacation the drama group presented their first Christmas pageant in the Main auditorium.

Members of the Community Service Group visited the Old Folks Home during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons and presented a program for the entertainment of the residents.

Christian Science Club

In its second year of existence at Bowling Green State University, the Christian Science Organization became officially recognized as a branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientists, Boston, Massachusetts, on June 20, 1946.

The group meets every Thursday evening. Student members were completely in charge and conducted the meetings in the same pattern as those Wednesday evening testimonial services conducted by all branches of The Christian Science Churches. A business meeting was held once a month, immediately after the Thursday services.

Membership requirements requested all students wishing to affiliate with the organization to pass an examination demonstrating their qualifications. This test covered a knowledge of the doctrine and beliefs of the national group.

The organization attempts to foster the ideals held by the Christian Scientists, and also to bring together all those who belong to, or are interested in an organization which sponsors the policies of Christian Science.

Each year the group sponsors a lecturer, brought to the Bowling Green campus from The Mother Church in Boston. The first free lecture was held in November, 1946, and plans were made for a second speaker in the spring of 1948.

In March, a dinner was held for all members of the organization. The group was strengthened and the members brought closer together by this mass activity.

Officers this year were: Shirley Paul, president; Frank Curtis, treasurer; June Cater, secretary; and Carol Hinkleman, reader. The group is under the direction of faculty advisor Merrell C. McEwen.

Kappa Phi

A national organization for Methodist university women, Kappa Phi upheld its aim to "unite in fellowship and fun". Plans and activities were based on the theme "Open Mine Eyes".

Varied topics were presented at the meetings to illustrate and explain different fields of work. Campus leadership was emphasized at one gathering while another explained the Methodist missionary program.

Meetings of the group were usually divided into a devotional service, business meeting, and then a planned program for both education and entertainment.

Any interested student was welcome to attend meetings. Membership is open to any Methodist woman student or any other woman on campus with Methodist preferences. New members were pledged twice this year.

Sunday night suppers were often held at the Methodist church as part of the group's social program. A formal banquet was held in the spring honoring graduating seniors. New officers were also installed at this time.

At Christmas time the organization sent gifts to the children at the Bowling Green Home. Other philanthropic work was done through participation in the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief.

A program for the Methodist church women of Bowling Green was presented at the spring meeting closest to Easter. It was a meal held in the upper room of the church to represent the Last Supper of Christ.

Every 2 years the National Council of Kappa Phi convenes. This year the meeting was held at Wellesly College.

Mrs. Winters, former national officer of the group was guest speaker at both the spring formal banquet and the "Last Supper" program.

This year's officers were: Nancy Hammans, president; Mary Louise Lindemuth, vice-president; Phyllis Kerstetter, recording secretary; Lois McCarty, corresponding secretary; and Annette Jackson, treasurer. Mrs. Virgel Taylor of Bowling Green was the group's sponsor.

Lutheran Student's Association

To acquaint new students with the organization, the Lutheran Student's Association began the school year with a rousing mixer, inviting all those interested to attend.

Since then, the group has held meetings each Sunday evening. Supper is served every Sunday by members of various women's clubs connected with the different Lutheran churches of Wood County.

The programs of each meeting alternate with speakers or recreational activities. A box social was one of the events at a meeting held last November.

Speakers at two of the February meetings included the Rev. George Maassel, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Napoleon, O., and the Rev. Herbert Heidmann, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Oak Harbor, O.

In March, the Rev. Dr. Norman Mentor, president of the Michigan district of the American Lutheran Churches spoke on "Lutheran Unity."

Officers of the group this year were: Donald Sander, president; Norman Asmus, vice-president; Martha Reichelderfer, secretary; and Joanne Guthrie, treasurer. Advisor and sponsor for the organization is the Rev. John Gardiner, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Bowling Green.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is the National Catholic Students Group organized to extend religious, intellectual, and social relationships on non-sectarian campuses. Guided by the moderator, Father Sullivan, and the President, Sal Giudice, the club enjoyed a very active year.

Other officers of the organization were Dom Spoto, vice president; John Gillespie, treasurer; Elaine Baderker, secretary; and Joanne Malikowski, corresponding secretary.

A Retreat in February climaxed the religious activities of the group. Father Deters of John Carroll University served as Retreat Master during this weekend of devotion. The discussions and question box period held during the Retreat were helpful in answering the problems of the Catholic students.

Social activities completed the calendar for the year. A Christmas party was enjoyed before vacation, and the annual "Get Acquainted Party" took place the first week in the second semester. The annual picnic was held in the spring for Newman Club members.

One of the most important gatherings is the Communion breakfast held once a month in the Parish Hall, following communion services.

Doris Smart—Editor

Key

"Let's not be late in '48" was the consistent reminder to busy members of the 1948 Key staff.

Editor Doris Smart was always on hand to keep the wheels of progress running smoothly and the capable staff members were determined to get the Key out on time.

The increased enrollment of students meant a bigger task. Mr. Russell Baird as Key faculty adviser helped the staff to untangle their problems so that the goal would be attained.

The book was divided into sections with an editor responsible for each section. Individual section editors were Barbara Schlatter, classes; Tom Loomis and Ed Cheslock, sports; Carole Mulqueeney, sororities and fraternities; and Marg Louis, index.

Art work which followed the theme of the Bowling Green Falcons was done by Don Deitesfeld. Ray Shellhammer, head of the mounting staff, was confronted with the job of seeing that all pictures were properly prepared for the engravers. Al Rosenberg, head photographer, guided an efficient photography staff in taking and developing the Key pictures.

Staff

Meredith Davis—Business Manager

The copy staff headed by Jean Grosenbaugh, gathered information on activities of the groups represented in the Key and wrote the copy. Typing of all copy and business transactions was the responsibility of Jean Ricketts and her typing staff, while Frannie Korhumel was head of the proof readers in the final checking of copy.

Business manager Meredith Davis and his staff cooperated in making it possible for the yearbook to be published. Barbara Hoierman headed the advertising staff in soliciting ads for the yearbook. Edna Wright as Circulation Manager the first semester, and Harriet Woods the second semester checked payments on the Key, mailed yearbooks and conducted all-campus distribution of the book.

Staff heads and section editors composed the Key Policy Board which met every week to discuss the progress of the book and plan for the Key parade and selection of the Judge for the king and queen.

Bee Gee

Bobbie John—Editor
Semester I

Campus news, including publicity notices, weekend social events, movie schedules and coming events on campus, are all handled by the Bee Gee News.

The paper's editorials conducted important campaigns for keeping the Nest clean, raising interest in elections and student government and enhancing school spirit.

With the increased enrollment of students the Bee Gee News expanded and every Wednesday a six page issue was printed. New feature columns and personal portraits of students and professors added human interest to the paper.

Bobbie Simpson John, editor-in-chief the first semester, was largely responsible for the expansion of the paper. Under the supervision of John Mires, faculty adviser, Bobbie and Eileen Dewhurst, editor-in-chief second semester, kept the Bee Gee News rolling.

News Staff

Eileen Dewhurst—Editor
Semester II

Luceal Foley, John Fay, Margaret Finney and Harold Flagg, assistant editors during the year, helped Bobbie and Eileen. Advertising managers Dan Rasett and Janet Moll continuously brought in more advertising than the paper could use. The financial problems of the paper were handled by Gine Marion, business manager.

The near-impossible task of efficiently delivering copies of the paper to students scattered all over the campus and town was accomplished by the circulation staff. They distributed the papers to the dining halls and in the Well.

"Dire Consequences" the widely-read gossip column, was handled by John Dyer, while Bill Day, sports editor, and his staff competently covered the important athletic events here.

Journalism Laboratory students covered the "news beats", and received credit for reporting the news assigned. A few of the many "beats" were the hospital, art department, Dr. Prout, Student Government, Book Store, registrar, and religion.

Eyas Staff

In its second year Eyas has again proven its popularity by sell-out editions.

A literary magazine, Eyas is made up of material contributed by those students desiring to do so. The first semester issue was dedicated to Prof. Lennox Robinson, visiting play-write from Ireland.

Key positions on the staff were held by Grayce

Scholt, editor-in-chief, and Mrs. Glenna Smith-Myers, former editor-in-chief. Other important staff members are: Wilberta Gardner, art editor; Margaret Finney, essay editor; Blanche Spangler, fiction editor; and Jo Shull, poetry editor.

Dr. Rea McCain and Mr. Fred McLeod acted as faculty advisors to the group.

B-G Book

John Fay, Carole Mulqueeney,
Bette Throne, John Dyer, Joan
Spetz, Eileen Pasco, Dorothy
Read, Al Rosenberg

B-G Book, a handbook for freshmen and transfer students of Bowling Green State University, is chuck full of facts about the school, deans, activities, sports, registration, dorms, fraternities, sororities, clubs, and student government procedure.

This attractive booklet illustrates college life with many photographs of campus life, a map of the campus and cartoons of "Joe" and "Josephine College". Included in the handbook is important information concerning the location of the churches and other important spots of the city.

The 1947 B-G Book was edited by Joan Spetz, with Betty Throne as photo editor, and Beryl Grubbaugh, art editor.

Student Directory

Jo Moscow, Marjorie Charles,
Alice Elton, Geralda Griggs,
Blanche Spangler, Shirley Lehman Ioanes, Kay Erf

The widest used booklet on the campus is the student directory. In it can be found names, addresses, and phone numbers of the students and faculty.

S. C. F. members gathered the information and handled the sales and distribution when the booklets were completed. Without the student directories seeking out an individual on this enlarged campus would be nearly impossible.

A Cappella Choir

Bowling Green's Acappella Choir's 1947-48 season was highlighted by a tour of mid-west and western states. In addition concerts were presented on the campus and in surrounding communities.

ed on the campus and in surrounding communities.

In November the group took its annual tour presenting concerts in Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, and Missouri. While in Independence, Mo. the unit made a broadcast over the local radio station.

During the Christmas season the choir assisted in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah," a campus production.

The Acappella Choir is conducted and advised by Dr. James Paul Kennedy, director of choral activities, with the assistance of James Dunn, student conductor. President of the choir is Kay Fischer Bayless and vice president, Raymond Yeager.

Several of the season's outstanding soloists were Shirley Figgins, Kay Bayless, Richard Ohlemacher, Harold Bayless, William Connor, Pat Sanguinetti, Don Harig, Edward Wieth and John Searle.

Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club gave a number of local concerts in the Bowling Green area this year. The high spot of the season, however, was the concert tour made by the Men's Glee Club through the southern states. This trip began on March fourth and concerts were given in the following towns: Spencerville, Ohio; Cincinnati, Ohio; Danville, Kentucky; Chattanooga, Tennessee; Ft. Payne, Alabama; Hollywood, Florida; Ft. Pierce, Florida; Avon Park, Florida; and St. Petersburg, Florida. On the return trip to Bowling Green, the Glee Club stopped at Forsyth, Georgia for another concert.

They returned to the campus on March 15, having completed a successful concert tour.

In the spring the Men's Glee Club cooperated with the other choral groups on campus in presenting the annual spring concert.

This organization also made a number of recordings which were used on many of the campus radio programs. The Glee Club was directed by Dr. James P. Kennedy, member of the music department faculty. The group's officers for this year were: Merritt L. Searfoss, president; Jack W. Kocher, accompanist; Gordon Domeck, Business Manager; and Mason Grove, secretary.

Treble Clef

"The Whole World is Singing My Song" but few are the groups that can present a better showing than the Treble Clef of Bowling Green.

After the traditional breakfast, which was held at the University Club, the group presented its opening concert at the Presbyterian Church in this city. At Christmas time the girls added their voices to other choral groups for the presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

The spring tour led the Treble Clef into the New England States where they presented several outstanding concerts. Foremost on this tour was the "Town Hall" concert. The previous year the group's tour found them in Florida.

Officers for the year were: President, Velma Bisher; Vice President, Doris Smart; Secretary, Fannie Smaltz; and Business Manager, Shirley Figgins. Dr. J. Paul Kennedy directed the group throughout the year.

A new feature this year was the concert broadcast over the campus radio. A program was also presented over the NBC network.

University Symphony Orchestra

The steady rise in membership of the Bowling Green State University Symphony Orchestra and the large number of students, faculty members, and townspeople who attended the 1948 concerts proved that there is a definite and increasing interest in classical music at Bowling Green.

The annual concerts presented by the popular organization have become traditional and may be ranked side by side with the many other university annual traditions.

In the preceding years the policy had been to present one concert each year, but because of the ever rising popularity and clamoring for classical music, not one, but two concerts were performed in this year.

Highlighting the 1948 season of classical music were the November and March concerts. Haydn's Surprise Symphony was featured in the November concert and the March concert featured Schubert's Unfinished Symphony.

The newly organized symphony orchestra was started in September of 1946 by its present director, William D. Alexander, and at that time was composed of only six members; however by February, of 1947 the total had been increased to 32. During this year the orchestra was composed of 45 students and faculty members shown above in rehearsal.

Officers for 1948 included Howard Micken, president; James Dunn, vice-president; Patricia Sanguinetti, secretary; and Robert Borough, business manager.

University Band

The Bowling Green State University Band set a new high in performance and popularity in 1948 under the direction of Arthur C. Zuelzke.

This year the marching band was divided into a mens group and a womens group. During football season they could be seen practicing long hours to perfect their formations and special numbers. Whenever possible, they followed the team to help boost the fighting spirit which is important at the games away from home.

The band continued to maintain this spirit through the basketball season with their peppy performances during the half and before game time.

In addition to giving two concerts on campus, they performed in several nearby cities. Pep rallies and broadcasting were also on their program for the past year.

Musically inclined students at the university are many, as is shown by the 36 women and 60 men who combined their efforts to bring to the campus the all important school spirit.

Varsity Club

Athletes who have won one or more letters through participation in any of the major inter-collegiate sports made up the membership of the Varsity Club.

The big job of operating the concession stands at both the football and basketball games was adequately handled by members of this organization. The sale of everything from soft drinks to hot dogs enabled the Varsity Club to continue its project—that of awarding blankets to all graduating lettermen.

The members of this organization combined their efforts in the sale of theater tickets so that all 17 members of the basketball team could make the trip to the Madison Square Garden's Invitational Tournament, and so that a suitable banquet could be given for the team upon their return.

Officers for the year were: James Whittaker, president; Robert Conroy, vice president; Tom Stubbs, secretary; and George MacDonald, treasurer. W. E. Steller served as faculty adviser of the Varsity Club.

Women's Athletic Association

Rivaling its fine record of other years, W. A. A. excelled in its efforts to further athletic activities and develop fair play. Spurred on by President Reva Bailey, the club brought both state modern dance and swimming club workshops to our campus. Another innovation was a sports day which attracted women's teams from near-by colleges to compete with Bee Gee's women athletes.

The complete intra-mural program of hockey, soccer, baseball, basketball, and volleyball reached its peak with the choosing of all-star teams. This spring, hundreds of students from northern Ohio high schools flocked to the annual play-day to find relaxation and enjoyment in the well-planned athletic program. The formal banquet in the spring was one of the most memorable and outstanding in the history of W. A. A.

Physical Education Club

With membership in the group restricted to both men and women who major or minor in that field, the Physical Education Club held meetings devoted to creating professional interest in, and to the furthering of knowledge in recreation and athletics.

Officers in charge of this year's activities included: Lois Simpson, president; Dolly Johnson, vice-president; Marion DeConick, secretary; and Mary Westhoven, treasurer. Miss Gertrude Eppler of the physical education department is women's advisor to the group.

Swan Club

The presentation of the water pageant, "The Wizard of Oz", highlighted the activities of the Swan Club during the year 1947-1948. The show ran for four nights during March, the result of the long hours the members of the club spent on practicing the many formations presented in the pageant.

Swan Club applicants must pass a series of tests before becoming members of the organization. They must be able to perform the fundamental strokes as well as surface dives, straight dives, synchronized swimming and endurance tests.

This year the club numbered close to fifty members. Faculty advisor was Miss Iris Andrews of the physical education department. Led by Liz Roulet, the organization met once a week.

In addition to the presentation of the swimming pageant in March, the club sponsored their annual all-campus swimming meet, with competition between the various women's dormitories. In April, Bowling Green's Swan Club was hostess to the swimming workshop, attended by representatives of colleges in Ohio and Michigan.

"Pft - - - Ping" and the archery club was off to another fun-packed season.

Any girl who could shoot 24 arrows from a distance of 30 yards with a score of 75 was eligible for membership. Members found their weekly shoots made more enjoyable by the presence of faculty advisor, Miss Shaw and President Kay

Ward.

The keen rivalry was intensified by the presentation of an arrow to the winner of the yearly inter-club tournament.

With spring, came the annual picnic which officially closed the season.

This year the organization met every Wednesday evening to transact business and to play speedy games of badminton doubles on the courts.

A round robin tournament, a change from last year's ladder tournament, was held this year to determine the badminton champions.

During the season the girls challenged the men players to a mixed doubles championship game.

The officers of the club were: Lois Beechler, president; Irma Barton, secretary; and Virginia Cook, treasurer.

Each season Bowling Green's women bowlers find themselves eagerly anticipating their organization's many activities. Led by President Irma Barton, this years group sponsored inter-club and inter-sorority meets, and a Bowling Sports Day with other colleges.

The biggest event of the year was the participation in the annual inter-collegiate telegraphic meet sponsored by Pennsylvania State Teachers College. The Bowling Green bowlers won.

All these activities were under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Fornia, faculty advisor.

Dance Club proved to be one of the most active and expanding groups at Bowling Green.

This year it brought Margaret H. Doubler and representatives from 17 colleges to participate in a Dance Workshop. Dance Club went on its first tour this season, taking selected members into 4 states to present programs.

Highlight of the year was the recital presented in the spring. Outstanding in the program was a color wheel which demonstrated the mood of various colors through rhythm.

The club's purpose, to create a broader understanding of dance as an art expression, was emphasized this year by Miss Lockman as faculty advisor and Margaret Miller as president.

Election of officers was held in grand style with a coke party in the Nest. A formal dinner dance in honor of the graduating senior members officially brought this most successful year to a close.

Outing Club

The Outing Club, which is an organization open to all women students, gives credit toward WAA and obtaining a letter sweater. Hikes, picnics, skating parties, overnight camping trips, flapjack breakfasts cooked out-of-doors, and a trip to the Toledo Zoo in the University truck were just a few of the activities enjoyed by the members of the club this year.

This organization offered a variety of entertainment for Bee Gee's out-of-door girl. A list of the season's activities was posted at the opening of the semester in an attempt to draw interest to the club's many activities.

Officers this year were Lillian Rossow, president, and Tex West, secretary-treasurer. Miss Carolyn Shaw acted as faculty adviser for the group.

Table Tennis Club

Dorothy Read, Bonnie Grismore, Jacqueline Greenhill, Betty Lou Claypool, Kay Cherry, Barbara Walters, Eugene Boror, Reed Elliott, Robert McClory, Verne McClory, Harry Apector.

Table Tennis Club players of Bowling Green represented the University in competition with Heidelberg, Toledo University, Findlay College and many other schools.

On campus the big table tennis event of the year was the all-campus contest in which fraternities, sororities, and independent groups were represented.

Membership in the club was limited by tryouts in which candidates were judged by the members of the organization. Because of limited facilities the club was forced to limit the number of members.

Officers for the club were: President, Robert McClory; Secretary, William Thompson; and Treasurer, Carolyn Knowles.

Football

BG opened the '47 season faced with a ten game schedule, the most ambitious ever undertaken by a Falcon eleven. Prospects appeared even dimmer when graduation took seven '46 squad mainstays.

But, in characteristic fashion, Coach Whittaker fielded a team, which despite constant injuries to key men and a series of bad breaks, rated high in Ohio football circles. The team was never routed in any game and came through the season with a record of five wins and five losses.

A Freshmen squad came back to the campus for the first time since the war. In two tilts, both with the Dayton frosh, the team gained an even split, losing the first 7-3 and copping the second 21-7.

The high regard that opponents had for the Orange and Brown varsity all season showed in BG dominance of "All Ohio" selections. Four Whittaker men were placed on the mythical eleven and two others received honorable mention.

Les Rideout was named to the first team tackle slot, Vern Dunham as second team end, and Wayne Bloker and Jack Woodland gained center and fullback spots respectively on the third team. Max Minnich and Tommy Inman were accorded honorable mention in the backfield.

Woodland was chosen as most valuable player in a vote taken by the team at season's end.

The Falcons ran from the "T" using a man in motion, and also had plays from the single wing. Once again the offense proved the weak spot in the club's play.

In the opener at Cincinnati, BG met the Musketeers of Xavier and after battling the Cincy boys to a scoreless tie for three quarters, a blocked punt in the closing minutes of the game netted Xavier a 2-0 decision.

Central Michigan, led by ace passer Tony Pabalas, invaded Bowling Green for the home opener. The contest provided plenty of thrills as the Falcons edged the Chippewas 20-19.

Quarterback Ennis Walker connected through the air with Minnich and Dunham for two of the BG markers and Jack Woodland lugged over the other from 15 yards out after passes from Walker to Jack Frietas had netted 28 yards.

The Orange and Brown treked to Dayton and Miami the following two weekends and came out on the short end of the count both times. Dayton's powerful Flyers rolled up a half-time lead of 13-7 that the injury riddled Falcons were unable to overcome. The game ended in a 20-13 count against the Bee Gees.

At Miami, in a "Migration Day" tilt, the Redskins again proved too much and emerged a 33-19 winner. However, in this one the Falcons were hampered by their worst punting of the season, which kept them in difficulty throughout the game. In total offense they were but a few yards short of Miami's mark.

Ohio University was the next home opponent for the Bee Gees. The Falcons continued to operate on the principles of the slimmest of margins for a victory. On rainsoaked turf, tackle Les Rideout blocked a Bobcat punt to provide a 2-0 victory for the home team.

The Falcons thrilled a homecoming crowd of more than 5,000 as they came from behind to score 14 points in the final quarter and nose out stubborn Kent State 21-18.

The Falcon line again played brilliantly from end to end, and in the backfield Max Minnich's stellar punting of a water-logged ball kept BG in Ohio U. territory constantly.

With four minutes to go Max Minnich broke away for 40 yards, being stopped on the Flashes' five from where Howard Schatzke rolled it over for the deciding counter.

On Nov. 1 the team met Findlay College. The Oilers, boasting the best college record in the state, were completely routed by the rampaging Whit-takermen, 26-9.

St. Bonaventure ended the Falcon win streak at Olean, N. Y. the next weekend. Capitalizing on fine passing the "Bonnys" took the tilt 21-14. Russ Maples scored both Orange and Brown TD's on a quarter sneak in the second period and his five yard dash in the third canto. However, Jack Woodland at full was easily the offensive star, repeatedly piling up long gains.

In the home finale BG drubbed a hapless Iowa State Teacher's eleven, 19-7. The Falcons mastered the Iowa squad all the way and had it not been for a muddy field the score might have been much larger.

Bowling Green journeyed to Williamsburg, Virginia, for their last game with William and Mary. Forced to play without Dick Franks and Bob Schnelker, who were out by injury and illness, the university gridders made the once beaten Indians go all out in taking a 20-0 victory.

Captain Bob Petrie

With only two returning lettermen and a flock of inexperienced sophomores, the Falcon harriers turned in a creditable season under their new coach, Dave Matthews. The brightest spot in what otherwise could have been a dismal year was the individual performance of Captain Bob Petrie, who rang up a total of four firsts, three seconds, and one third in single and dual meets.

Bowling Green climaxed the season by placing 17th in a field of 32 colleges and universities in the National Collegiate meet at Michigan State. In the National Junior AAU at Wayne University, the Bee Gee hill-and-dalers finished fifth, Petrie placing 11th.

Swinford of Ball State led his mates to a 19-44 victory in the first meet of the season.

With their captain setting the pace, the Falcons vanquished Wooster, 25-32. Chuck Lamb and Curt Nelson of Bee Gee finished in a fourth place tie. Lack of balance allowed Albion to win the third meet, 23-32, despite Petrie's second win.

In the first dual meet, the Bee Gee-Ites trailed Cincinnati and Wayne. Michigan Normal, Ohio U., and Ohio Wesleyan successively squeezed out victories over the Matthews-men, although Petrie again copped a win, place and a show.

Wrestling

Wrestling was resumed at Bowling Green for the first time since 1942, and the grapplers, although starting slowly, won their last three meets and wound up with a season's record of three wins, one tie, and six defeats. The matmen scored 172 points to their opponents 187, and won 34 individual matches while dropping 44. Coach Bob Leiman is assured of a stronger team next year for he will have ten lettermen returning and seven experienced freshmen to bolster the varsity.

Individual leaders of this year's team were freshman Ray Florian, high point man of the squad in the 175 pound class; Captain Carmel Bonito, junior, wrestling in the 128 division; and Jack Woodland, sophomore, in the heavyweight bracket. Florian collected 41 points in winning 10 matches and losing two, while Bonito won seven, tied three, and lost one. Woodland's record was five wins, two ties, and three losses.

Swimming

For the second successive year Coach Sam Cooper gave Bowling Green one of the top swimming teams in the Midwest.

Although its won and lost record wasn't quite as impressive as last season's, the team nevertheless was every bit as good. It bettered two of the previous years records and as a group was more strongly balanced in all events.

Victorious in 7 of 10 outings, the Bee Gees set eight opponent pool records and captured the Ohio Relays for the second straight time, competing with nine other colleges including Kenyon, Fenn, Kent State and Ohio University.

In addition to the seven of nine trophies the Falcons won at the Relays, the 400-yard relay squad of Kline, Joyce, Moore and Van Allman set a new meet record for the event churning the distance in 3:49.2.

Bowling Green again showed its power in the last meet of the season, the Central Collegiate Conference Championship. Here it won the intermediate flight of competition after diver Bob Ruth and the 400 relay team had placed in the senior division.

During the regular season the Orange and Brown scored single victories over Ohio U., Ball State Teachers, Detroit, Slippery Rock and Wooster, winning twice from the Ft. Wayne YMCA. They lost to Michigan State, Cincinnati, (the only schools to defeat them last year) and Kenyon College. The latter meet was lost by a scant three points, coming at a time when the Coopermen were weakened by injuries and illness.

Individually, the Falcons were led by senior and team captain Charles Joyce. The Cleveland swimmer, who holds or shares three pool records, ended his career by scoring more than 100 points. In the 50 yard dash he won seven firsts and one second place, going the distance in 24:3. For the 100-yard dash he has a record of eight victories and one second, posting a best time of 54:5 for the event.

Best distance man was sophomore Fred Kline. Clocked at 2:11.8 in the 220-yard free style, he also made 5:21.4 in the 400-yard crawl at Ohio University early in the season.

Diving star Bob Ruth, the only entrant in this years NCAA, was defeated only once in 11 starts. Included in his total was a win in the Relays with teammate Sam Logan.

Another high for the year was the 300-yard medley relay squad's 6-4 record in dual meets plus a 2nd place in the Ohio College at Fenn. Backstroker Jay Vasterling was timed at 1:52.8 for 150-yards and Dave Jamison did a 2:43.8 stint in the 200-yard breast stroke.

Team standouts included; Bob Frary, Charles Parsons, Richard and Robert Pence, Bob Walden, Fred Boggs, Dell Ewing, Ed Lihan, Alex Steve, Al Hechtl and Tom Stubbs.

With the most promising freshman squad in the history of BG coming up and a host of returning lettermen the Falcons can expect an even greater team in '49.

Basketball

Coach Harold W. Anderson, in his fifth year at the helm of the Falcon hoopsters, produced what was generally considered the greatest team in Bowling Green history. The Falcons won 27 regular season games while dropping only five contests, and once again were chosen to play in the National Invitational Tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden.

In the first round of the championship they were unfortunate in drawing St. Louis University, the eventual winners, as an opponent. The Billikins, catching Bee Gee on one of a few nights when the Orange and Brown was completely "off," coasted through to a 69-53 triumph.

Entering the Gotham affair, the tall, fast-breaking Falcons had been ranked by a popular rating sheet as the 6th best team in the nation. Rich in talent and depth, the Andersonmen at times seemed to have everything possible in a basketball team.

The squad was made up mostly of sophomores and juniors; therefore eyes are already turned toward the 1948-49 season—the one "Andy" has been pointing toward for a long time.

Leo Kubiak, Sn., 5' 11", Guard. Captain and inspirational leader of the Falcons, his fourth season was his greatest. He was a superb floor man and was deadly with a one hand push shot.

Mac Otten, Jr., 6' 6", Center. Reliable Mac played at both center and forward and stood out on both offense and defense. He played more than any other Falcon and reminded old-timers of brother Don.

Stan Weber, Soph., 6' 5½", Forward. Very fast and a good shot from any angle, Stan was a coach's dream—an agile "big man". He was injured before the first game but quickly regained his first string spot of last year.

Gene Dudley, Soph., 5' 10½", Guard.

This great ball handler and fine shot returned after a year in the service and was instrumental in the club's success. He is heir apparent to Kubiak's first string berth.

Charlie Share, Soph., 6' 10", Center.

Constantly improving in the pivot slot, Chuck may be Andy's next candidate for All-American honors. He hiked his two year point total to 613.

John Payak, Jr., 6' 4", Guard. One of the smoothest guards in Bee Gee history, John had the best average of all the Orange and Brown shooters. He was usually the man who was back to stop opponents' fast breaks.

Emerson Speicher, Jr., 6' 2", Forward. Most flashy man on the squad, the redhead was a star all season. Undoubtedly one of the nation's top ball handlers and passers, he was extremely popular with the fans.

Mac Otten nets two against Marquette . . .

Mixing it up under the basket . . .

Fritz Plinke, Soph., 6', Forward. This letter man of 1945-46 team returned to school after a year in the army. He proved to be as fast and reliable as ever.

Bob Green, Soph., 6' 3", Forward. An "on" night for Bob meant trouble for the opposition. Young and fast, he may develop into a sensation. On fast breaks he teams very well with ex-high school mate Dudley.

Bob Miller, Soph., 6' 2½", Guard. In this, his first full season of varsity competition, Bobby became very popular with the spectators for his tricky ball handling and passing.

Rol Henning, Soph., 6' 4", Forward. Very aggressive and tough to beat off the backboards, Rol came up from last year's great J. V. team to place among the first ten varsity men most of the season.

Tom Inman, Sn., 6' 1", Forward. Tommy is another veteran of many sports. Like Knierim, he was hampered by a late start following football. By the season's end he had retained his old time form.

Bob Conroy, Sn., 6' 2", Forward. Bob never engaged in high school sports but became a top flight athlete at Bowling Green. A speedy and high jumping reserve, he played inspired ball each time he was inserted in a vital spot.

Weber scores with one-handed push shot . . .

The two team system was employed with good results in most instances. Key men on opponent clubs often fouled out early in the game leaving Bee Gee well manned for the final quarter drive. The combine at the right, averaging near 6' 5" in height, was frequently started.

A smaller, faster group usually came on as a unit midway in the first half. Tired clubs were subjected to a mental as well as a physical handicap. This method of play was not infallible, however. On occasion, a "hot" team was replaced only to result in the second group not being able to hit its stride.

North Carolina State and Rhode Island State were the only teams in the country that finished above the Falcons in offensive average during the 1947-48 season. Including the tournament game, Bee Gee scored 2327 points for a mark of 70.5 per contest.

In beating Baldwin-Wallace, 88-51, the Andersonmen set a new all-time scoring record for the Cleveland Arena. Against American International Institute in Springfield, Mass., another floor mark was established when the visiting cagers poured in 96 points, 50 more than their opponents.

Individually, the scoring was suprisingly high also, although Bee Gee probably used more men regularly than did any team in the land. Five Falcons hit for better than 200 points. Share had 367, Otten 288, Weber 254, Kubiak 238, and Payak 220.

Speicher, Kubiak, Payak, Share, Weber . . .

Dudley, Green, Otten, Henning, Miller . . .

Karl Schwab, Jr., 6' 3", Forward. A letter winner here two years ago, Karl was at Ohio State last season. Returning to the Falcon fold, he looked very good—at his best off the boards and on the fast break.

Buddy Bauer, Soph., 6', Guard. This boy may be the surprise of next year's team. Lacking only experience, he showed an amazingly accurate set shot in the limited time he played.

The squad opened its season with six easy games. Coach Anderson experimented to determine just what each of his men could do. In the first eastern swing, City College tried to run the Falcons into the Garden floor but found the Ohioians were even more expert at the race-horse game. Mac Otten flipped in 15 of 17 foul shots to set a new record for the Gotham arena, and led the visitors to a 72-68 triumph.

Duquesne was wiser and slowed the action to a standstill. Everything went wrong this time and the Dukes knocked Bee Gee, 50-44.

Ohio, T. C. U., South Carolina, and Western Kentucky fell victim to a steadily improving machine. The win over Western, by a 75-64 count spoiled an undefeated season for the mighty southern powerhouse.

Next the Falcons went to Chicago to fall victim to a greatly underrated Loyola outfit. Jack Kerris and company won, 53-50. Three easy games were followed by a return match with the Windy City quintet. The tables were turned, 68-61.

Little Findlay was no competition as the boys went on the road again. At Milwaukee they fell victim to the upset of the year. Lowly Marquette was red hot and won, 69-66.

Youngstown capitulated, but Xavier beat the Falcons in Cincinnati, 51-49, in overtime. The Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky, led by Spears, Gibson, and McKinney, conquered, 66-52, to even things with Bee Gee.

Dayton scared the still faltering Orange and Brown but the team returned to top flight form on the next eastern trip. Fans at the Boston College, A. I. C., and Syracuse games saw one of the nation's best win going away.

The victory streak was on, and it extended to ten games at the season's end. Outstanding in the list was the swamping of Marquette, as Kubiak starred while holding All-American Gene Berce to five points.

Jim Knierim, Sn., 5' 10", Guard. One of Bee Gee's greatest all-around athletes, popular Jim captured his eleventh monogram. He was used primarily as an occasional steadying influence on less experienced teammates.

Joe Siegfert, Sn., 5' 9", Guard. The veteran of the squad, little Joe was on Andy's first Bee Gee quintet and captained the 1944-45 team. When needed in this year of tall men he continued as a cool playmaking expert.

The team this year was popular with fans wherever it traveled. Experts throughout the country marveled at how a quintet that usually averaged better than 6'4" in height could produce such speed and ball handling dexterity.

Anderson featured the fast break offense and his boys literally ran many opponents off their feet. With deadly eyes the Falcons, when slowed down, turned on their famous set shot barrage, backed up by superb backboard control.

There was such a prevalence of good material available that in most of the games a two-team system was used. Usually the two constantly interchanging groups were of equal ability, and each was supplemented with any of a large group of reserves.

Near the end of the season, the quintets were consolidated and the lineup usually listed Share, Otten, Weber, Kubiak, and Payak, with Speicher, Green, and Dudley substituted frequently.

This was a ballplayer's club. No man constantly stood out as an individual star. Team work and the fact that every player was capable of a hot night made the Falcon's strong as a group.

Two more for Bee Gee . . .

Share leaps high to score . . .

Although few players saw action for more than half a ball game many honors were taken by squad individuals.

Captain Leo Kubiak was chosen on the Collegiate Magazine's All-Midwestern team, the Associated Press 1st All Ohio Team, and the International News Service 2nd club. He made the 1st All Cleveland Arena and was mentioned in a New York Sportswriters' poll to choose the most valuable player to play in Madison Square Garden.

The little guard was also honored by Marquette players who named him to their all opponent team.

Chuck Share made the INS 1st team All Ohio, and the AP 2nd squad. Mac Otten was placed on the AP 3rd team and received honorable mention by INS. Red Speicher, John Payak and Stan Weber also were mentioned.

Otten polled 4,000 votes by the nation's fans to cop honorable mention on the Sportweek All-American team. Speicher was named to the Syracuse all opponent team and Otten was given a berth on its second squad.

The Bowling Green-Toledo University peace-pipe, symbol of basketball supremacy between the rival schools, was won by Bee Gee in the Toledo Field House when the Falcons triumphed, 42-38.

Speicher slips under to score against Rockets.

Toledo University and Bowling Green resumed athletic relations this year with their first basketball game since 1935. The two great Ohio powers, natural rivals due to geographic proximity and because of their well-matched teams, have now scheduled games in every sport.

The basketball tilt was taken by the Falcons, 42-38, asserting them as a candidate for national honors. But what may have been more important, the contest proved that students of the schools could mingle in large numbers and maintain an attitude of friendly sportsmanship.

Underdog Toledo played a slow stalling game using the strategy that Bee Gee could not tally if it didn't have the ball. The final score indicates how near the Rockets came to succeeding. It was only the height of the Falcons, led by gigantic Charlie Share, that pulled them through.

The lottery method was used to parcel tickets to Bee Gee students for the game which renewed athletic relations between the institutions after a 12 year layoff.

Baseball

In a season characterized by rained-out games and a lack of opportunity for practice sessions, the Bee Gee baseball team finished with a highly respectable .600 percentage. The Falcons won their first six games only to drop the last four contests on the road.

Warren E. Stellar, in his 23rd year as diamond coach here, had material that was potentially stronger than any developed at Bowling Green in many years. However, powerful late season opposition was a little too much for the Orange and Brown when proven veterans of past seasons failed to come through as expected at the plate and on the mound.

Several individual stars did maintain a high standard of ball playing throughout the season. Glen Honner, left-handed hitting outfielder, smashed out a .394 batting average, led the team in total bases with 23, hit two home runs, four doubles, and batted in 14 runs—all in his freshman year.

Pepperpot third sacker George Bohanna was a thorn in the side of the opposition all season. He led in stolen bases with seven, compiled a .326 average at the plate, and was a fielding sensation.

Don Kuhlman, pesky little second baseman who graduated in 1947, was one of the most reliable men on the squad. An ideal leadoff batter, he scored 12 runs, stole four bases, and hit .316.

The main body of the pitching corps consisted of Fred Petrides, Lew Cross, Gerry Pingle, George Vucovich, and Ray Roob. Petrides, in his sophomore season, tossed 26 innings, won two games and dropped one. Cross pitched in six games and led in earned run average with 2.12. Pingle allowed just three runs in nine innings on the hill and was credited with two of the victories. Vucovich, dean of the staff, relieved a great deal and won one game. Roob was used extensively and often showed flashes of unbeatable twirling.

Other regular performers were: Tom Burton and John Jeremiah, catchers; Harold Martin, first base; Leo Kubiak, shortstop; Howie Martin and Tom Inman, outfielders; Bill Lute and Jim Knierim, general utility. With only two men graduating all indications point towards a highly successful 1948 season.

Track

During 1947 the Falcon track squad compiled one of the most successful seasons in University history.

The Bee Gees, coached by Bob Whittaker, won five of six dual meets, placed 3rd in the Ohio relays, gained 60 first places and established three school records, while amassing 514-2/3 points to opponents' 255-1/3.

Opening with Ohio Wesleyan April 19, the Orange and Brown won a 76½-50½ decision and then swept through all other opposition until the final meet, when they were stopped by Cincinnati 67 1/3 - 54 2/3.

Falcon balance proved too great for the Bishops of Ohio University in the second meet. Jim Whittaker soared to 12' 3" in this one to set a new school vault record. Later in the season Whittaker cleared 12' 6" at Detroit to tie Titan Bernie Archer.

Although beaten by Cincy's Bearcats, the B. G. mile relay squad of Sazima, Baker, Monetta, and Schaffer breezed 4 laps in 3:28.5 for another record. The final record was set by Stan Weber's shot put of 46' 2" at Albion. Here the team won every event but the high jump, in which Paul Sackett was tied at 5' 10" in this meet.

Top point getter throughout the season was team captain Bob Conroy, who competed in the broad jumps, high and low hurdles. He was followed closely by Stan Weber, shot put; Jim Whittaker, pole vault; John Mould, broad jump; Ray Winkler, high hurdles; Bruce King, shot put; Jim Smithy, low hurdles and broad jump; Bob Sackett, high jump, and Cliff Baker, 440, and Bob Long, dashes.

The Falcon tennis squad opened its '47 season under new coach Clyde Parker with 16 scheduled matches. However, rainy weather, which continually hampered outdoor practice, forced cancellation of five.

In the remaining 11 encounters the team garnered two wins and a tie. Both victories were marked up over Youngstown, 7-0; 6-1.

The Bee Gees, captained by Dave Scudder, former Jr. Davis cupper from Indianapolis, tied Bluffton in the opener and dropped matches to Wayne, 10-0; Case, 6-4; Michigan Normal, 6-4; Ohio Wesleyan, 8-1; and the powerful Toledo Tennis Club, 6-3.

Parker built his team around three lettermen from the '46 squad, Dave Scudder, Harding Monroe, and Bill Parker. Scudder seeded in the top spot, took three of his single matches from some of the best netmen in Ohio circles. In the doubles he teamed with Elmer Olsen and the pair posted a season's record of five victories and six losses, high for the year.

Golf

After a six year layoff intercollegiate golf returned to Bowling Green in the spring of 1947. Coach Fred Marsh whipped together a group that finished the season with an excellent record of eight victories and four losses. Handicapped by exceedingly poor weather conditions, the Falcons turned in many fine scores in matches played for the most part on water-laden courses.

Lone setbacks were suffered at the hands of mighty University of Michigan and Ohio State teams while home-and-home matches with Michigan Normal and Ohio Northern were split.

Dick Halter compiled the best average among the Bee Gee linksters, a 78.8, and in best-ball play the duo of Halter and Paul Schadek was most effective with a 73.5 mark for the season's competition. Other good individual averages were carded by the following monogram winners: Meredith Davis, 81.1; Ennis Walker, 81.4; Schadek, 81.4; John Hersland, 82.3; and Maurice Seiple, 82.8.

Ennis Walker was elected honorary captain, and John Hersland was chosen captain-elect of what promised to be an even better 1948 aggregation. With only Walker graduating and such additional promising performers as Curley Hoffman, Bill Mossing, Chuck Albury, and Marv Borgeson returning, expectations were high.

Men's Intramurals

Campus sport fans were accorded an opportunity to participate in intramural athletics of almost every nature this year. Coach Dave Matthews directed the ambitious program which covered touch football, wrestling, handball, basketball, basketball foul shooting, horse shoe pitching, swimming, volley ball, track, tennis, golf, and softball.

At press time football, swimming, wrestling, handball, and basketball tournaments had been completed. With as many as 36 teams taking part in these sports, the problem of post-season championship series was no small one. A system of point awards was devised to determine organization and individual all-sport champs.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Hut H held slim leads in the race for the all-sport trophy at deadline time.

Sigma Nu culminated a fine season's play by beating S.A.E. for the fraternity football championship. Hut H, captained by Tom Noland, captured pigskin honors by a long string of victories in the independent division.

The huge field of entrants in the basketball tourney was divided into leagues of six teams, with each aggregation meeting the holders of its respective spot in the other leagues in a post-season playoff. Frank Rohr's Hut L team took the laurels in the independent bracket with a 26-23 triumph over Rocky Apicello's Rockets.

Sigma Chi, unbeaten in one fraternity league, met S.A.E., close victors over Sigma Nu in the other section, in the finals for the fraternity championship. The Sigma Chi's won easily, 52-28. Dane Barber, Joe Polk, and Bud Flegle led the winners in scoring, Buck Teater and Ross Shawaker sharing honors for the S.A.E. squad.

In an interdivision playoff, Sigma Chi then raced to victory, 39-25, over Hut L and took the campus cage crown.

Kappa Sigma, winning six of the eight events, splashed out a victory in the frat swimming meet, A.T.O. taking second. Phil Hodes of the Kappa squad and Carl Chopps of A.T.O. tied for top honors with ten points each.

A tie in the frat wrestling meet was broken by John Sheldon's heavyweight victory over Cliff Baker, giving PiKA the title. The other campus mat champions are: Bob Scott, Sigma Chi, 175 lb. class; Carl Davenport, PiKA, 165; Ed Meredith, Sigma Chi, 155; Ron Smith, S.A.E.; and Ned Hugus, PiKA, 128.

In handball, Sigma Chi and S.A.E. tied for first place.

Independent basketeer loose for a lay-up . . .

The fraternity bowling league, not a part of the regular intramural program, produced some very effective pin-spillers. Sigma Chi led most of the season, but a high-scoring spurt by Frank Zurlo and Bob Korn pushed Sigma Nu into the number one slot when the Key went to press. Bernie Beers and Bud Flegle paced the Sigma Chi team consistently. Art Balsat, of Theta Chi, Bud Pugh, of Kappa Sigma, Jack Mercer, of S.A.E., and Ed Bergman and Claude Huard, of PiKA, were others who registered excellent averages.

Women's Intramurals

Rush from midfield in soccer game . . .

Participation in Women's Intramurals is open to all women students and is a means of obtaining membership in the WAA. Miss Dorothy Fornia, a graduate of Ohio State University, is the faculty adviser for this program. She came to Bowling Green in the fall of last year and has since used her vitality and ingenuity in aiding the girls in after-school sports activities.

September and the beginning of classes brought a call for hockey sticks and shin guards from the deepest depths of the Women's Building. Each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, the girls could be seen collecting the scars of battle at one end of the athletic field while the football team practiced at the other end.

Each of the twelve hockey teams played every other team and the winner was determined by its won and lost record. The "Queens in Jeans," captained by Barbara Bottenus, finished in first place. An added attraction to this year's activities was an alumnae hockey game on October 25. It was a homecoming contest between the returned alumnae and an all-star team of students, in which a 2-1 decision was taken by the students.

On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the same season, and in the same corner of the athletic field, another group of girls in jeans and sweat shirts gathered to play soccer. Although there were but nine teams in the soccer league the system of competition was the same as in hockey. When the last game had been played, the laurels went to the fighting hearts and aching feet of the "Soccerettes." Pat Vannorsdall was the captain of this winning team.

With the coming of December's wind and snow, the athletes sought refuge in the Women's Gym. Donning shorts and blouses the girls took to passing and dribbling a basketball in true Bowling Green fashion. They were divided into twenty teams with ten in each league. One league had the gym floor two days in the week, while the other played the three remaining afternoons. Polly Moeller's "Falconettes" were tops in their league and Pat Stein led her "Decades" to a victory in the other.

SOCCER CHAMPS

At the end of the season an inter-class tournament was held. The teams were made up of Physical Education majors from each class. The seniors, guided by Ruth Marshall, capitalized on their years of experience to capture the championship.

Volleyball started with the new semester and continued until early April. There were 30 teams, each representing a women's residence or club. Along with the usual fun of volleyball, the girls had the excitement of group competition. A volleyball cup, which is offered every year, was awarded to the winning team.

An all-sports day was held on February 28th, with Bowling Green playing host to Heidelberg College and Toledo University. There were contests in badminton, basketball, table tennis, and volleyball. When the points were added up, Toledo University had 46, Heidelberg 48, and Bowling Green 52.

Key Parade

One of the most outstanding and anticipated events of the college year is the annual Key Parade. Beneath a warm Fall sun 25 organizations made public presentation of their candidates for Key King and Key Queen. Fifteen hundred students witnessed the variety of color and a galaxy of unique ideas displayed in the hour long parade. For the first time a special prize was awarded by the Key for the best float. On the basis of color, design, presentation of theme and originality, the judges awarded the perpetual trophy for floats to Phi Delta Fraternity. With their candidate as "The Man About Town" standing before a door on a blue and white float—and with Trevlac, Phi Delta Great Dane at the end of a leash—the float captured the trophy for its direct and catchy presentation of idea.

Among other outstanding floats in this parade of beauty were Gamma Phi Beta's candidate seated inside the traditional crescent moon which was mounted on a large mound of pink carnations; Delta Gamma's nautical theme of a boat, sailed by their candidate, decorated with anchors; and Kappa Sigma's royal throne, surrounded by servants in colorful Grecian costumes, and pulled by "shackled" pledges.

Billy Rose Judges Contest

"Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief," who shall the judge for the 1948 Key Queen and King contest be? After much consideration and discussion of several possibilities, the Key Policy Board voted unanimously in favor of Billy Rose for judge of the annual contest.

During World War I Billy Rose served as an assistant to Bernard Baruch in government activity. Known to most of us for his remarkable showmanship, his outstanding theatrical production was Billy Rose's Aquacade presented at the New York World's Fair. Today he is editor of the newspaper column "Pitching Horseshoes" and has a radio program by the same name. A deep interest in politics stemmed from his work with Baruch and it is to this that he devotes a great deal of his time. His interest in politics is evidenced in his newspaper column and his "Letter to Uncle Joe Stalin". In addition to this, Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe is one of New York's outstanding night clubs.

In making his decision, Billy Rose wrote "You have a lovely set of young people and it took quite some choosing to decide."

Homecoming Queen

Patty Bice

Lee Wylie, Patty Bice, Ann Geiser, Jim Knierem

Highlighting a busy Homecoming Weekend was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the presentation of her court during the half time of the Kent State-Bowling Green football game.

The queen was presented to the spectators when she and her attendants were escorted around the University Stadium track in a black convertible. The crowning ceremonies took place in front of the Bowling Green stands. Patricia Bice was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1947 by Jim Knierem, captain of Bowling Green's football team. Ann Geiser and Lee Wylie were elected by the student body as attendants to the queen. The queen and her attendants were presented with large bouquets during the ceremony. The queen also received flowers from a representative of Kent State University.

During the ceremony, the Homecoming Queen and her court were serenaded with "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody" by Shirley Figgins. Pat, Ann, and Lee occupied seats of honor on a throne erected for the purpose for the remainder of the game.

May

Queen

At an impressive May Day program, Donna Grafton Mort was crowned May Queen of 1947 in the University auditorium. Eva Marie Saint, May Queen of 1946 returned to the campus for the crowning ceremonies. The queen's court consisted of Juanita Neal, senior attendant; Marilyn Hecklinger, junior; Marion DeConick, sophomore; and Ann Geiser, freshman attendant.

Appropriate music for the ceremony was furnished by an octet composed of music department students. Additional entertainment was provided by members of the Modern Dance Club.

A reception in honor of the Queen and her court was held immediately after the ceremony in the Administration Building. The May Queen and her attendants were also honored at the Royal Prom presented as a climax to May Week activities.

University Theater Presents

The cast of the play, "The Late George Apley".

Lennox Robinson

With the bringing of Lennox Robinson, noted Irish playwright, and Miss Sara Algood, Irish-born Hollywood character actress to the campus, the University Theater, under the direction of Dr. Elden T. Smith, completed its most successful season.

Mr. Robinson is the director of the famous Abbey Theater, located in Dublin, Ireland and has written several plays.

The playwright was brought to the campus as a visiting professor of English and Speech. While he was here he completed his latest play, "The Lucky Finger", a charming comedy of Irish family life. Its world premier was given on January 19 under the capable direction of Professor Frederick G. Walsh and introduced Miss Algood to the campus as its star.

A scene from, "The Plough and the Stars".

Sara Algood

from Hollywood

Miss Algood was a co-worker with Mr. Robinson at the Abbey Theater when the former made her debut there in 1904 in Lady Gregory's play, "Spreading the News". She was in the original production of Sean O'Casey's "Juno and the Peacock" and in 1940 appeared on Broadway in a revival of this play in which she co-starred with Barry Fitzgerald. Some of her most successful motion picture roles were in "Kitty", "How Green Was My Valley", "That Hamilton Woman", and "This Above All".

Other plays which were presented this season were "The Late George Apley", "The Plough and the Stars", "Church Street", "Spreading the News", "Ten Nights in a Barroom" and "Yield of the Fountain". The last is an original manuscript written by Professor Frederick Walsh of the Speech department.

The Christmas Season

The Christmas season was a busy time for Bowling Green students. With the AWS caroling, the contest for house decorations, and the presentation of the Messiah, the week before vacation was very full.

On the 18th of December, AWS held their annual progressive caroling. The various members of the board of AWS met first in the well and then proceeded to pick up the groups in the sorority and fraternity houses and the dorms. The caroling ended in the University Circle with the Treble Clef and A Cappella choir singing "Silent Night" and "White Christmas".

Pi Kappa Alpha took the SCF's annual Christmas Spirit contest for the second successive year. The judges, Mrs. F. J. Prout, Mr. Miles Miller, and Mr. Fred R. Mekeel, presented the loving cup to the PiKAs for their church replica with stained glass windows, altar, organ and organ music.

One of the best loved traditions on our campus and the highlight of the Christmas season is the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah". This year the oratorio, directed by Dr. J. Paul Kennedy, was given the Sunday before Christmas vacation. Taking part in this program was the Junior and Senior A Capella Choir, Treble Clef, Men's Glee Club, and the Mixed Chorus. This combination of these organizations formed a chorus of 300 voices. Four guest soloists sang the solo parts of the oratorio. They were Miss Nancy Carr, soprano; Mrs. Florence Hensen, contralto; Carlton Eldridge, tenor; and Floyd Worthington, baritone.

Highlights of the Year

Governor Arnall

In addition to other activities, the University sponsored a lecture early in the spring by Ellis G. Arnall, author, former Governor of Georgia, and youngest governor of any state. "To insure world peace, we must make our democracy the envy of the world", stated Arnall in his speech, "Whose Country Is This Anyway?"

Homecoming Decorations

The Welcome Mat was put out all over the campus for returning alumnae during Homecoming weekend.

Upon the basis of originality, ingenuity, artistic appeal, and mechanics, Gamma Phi Beta was awarded Alpha Chi Omega's cup for the best decorated house. The Gamma Phi decorations involved a huge web with a captured fly in Kent State's colors and a spider in the school colors of Bowling Green. Also on the web was the original ditty, "Victory, Victory is our cry, said the spider to the fly". Among other outstanding decorations were the enlarged Falcon of Phi Delta with a rotating wing stirring stew into which Kent players were falling; Alpha Phi's "Let's Skunk Them", and Theta Phi's "Time to Beat Kent".

CLEW Week

Christian Living Emphasis Week led students to clearer thinking about religion and world affairs. A total of 8,917 students attended the various seminars, personal conferences, lectures, assemblies, chapels, and meditations. Sponsored by SCF, CLEW brought to campus outstanding religious leaders to participate in the program. Among them were Dr. George Buttrick, Dr. John Oliver Nelson, Dr. Samuel Smith, Mrs. Josephine Kyles, Professor S. K. Patro, and Dr. James Stoner, former SCF Director.
